RANCH GOES UP IN FLAMES

About 50 buildings remaining on the Palomarin Ranch of the Golden Rule Church Assn. above Bolinas were put to the torch by the Marin County Fire Department today to clear the land for the National Park Service. It was purchased in 1964 for Point Reyes National Seashore inclusion. Last April, an arsonist set fire to part of the buildings which once housed the communal church group. LBJ Reveals $3 Billion Cut In Spending

Expects Decision Soon On Viet Nam Cease Fire Time

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson today approved a $3 billion-plus cutback in federal spending over the next seven months of this fiscal year.

The Chief Executive also announced at a news conference that he and Mrs. Johnson would join President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz of Mexico Saturday for a joint inspection of the Amistad Dam site on the Rio Grande near Del Rio, Tex.

CEASE FIRE

Johnson also revealed a decision on the Viet Cong holiday cease-fire proposal is imminent. He said it could come within a few hours or within days, and certainly before he leaves for the two-hour visit to the Texas-Mexican border this weekend.

Johnson, saying he felt "fine" and looking fit, summoned reporters from the Driskill Hotel to the new Austin federal building, where he had been working all morning in his ninth-floor office after a helicopter ride from the LBJ ranch.

He said there was no decision yet whether he plans to call for an income tax increase next year. And he made it plain he does not expect to reach a decision until perhaps January.

SPENDING CUTS

The President broke down the cuts in government spending to show they were almost across the board with every federal agency. He said he also had ordered a fiscal 1967 budgetary cutback of $5.3 billion in federal programs.

He added that federal officials will continue to review federal spending with an eye toward more cuts.

He said reductions were made to keep from pouring "gasoline on the fire" of inflation.

Johnson also said he had not yet seen a reported federal crime commission recommendation to make wiretapping legal.

"I would think that report is premature," Johnson said.

"I have no information they are going to make such a recommendation."

The President appeared well on the road to recovery from his Nov. 16 double throat and abdominal surgery. He said he had been working in the federal building four or five times, but today was the first time newsmen had seen him at his desk in the plush office building that houses other agencies as well.

Slain Pair's Mystery Friend Sought Again

Peking Rejected By 57-46 Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—By a more decisive vote than last year, the General Assembly refused today to seat Red China in the United Nations. It was the 16th time the Peking government had been barred.

The 121-nation Assembly voted 57-46 to reject a resolution calling for the expulsion of Nationalist China and the seating of the Peking government in all U.N. bodies. Seventeen countries abstained. Laos did not participate.

IDENTICAL RESOLUTION

The vote on an identical resolution last year was 47-47 with 20 abstentions. The total membership then was 117. Two members did not vote and one was absent.

It also rejected an Italian proposal for a high-level study of the China representation problem.

Today's rebuff to the Chinese Communist came after the Assembly had approved a U.S.-supported resolution reaffirming that the Chinese question was an important one requiring a two-thirds majority. The vote on that was 66 to 48 with seven abstentions.

SAME SPLIT

As in the past, Britain and France split with the United States and voted for the pro-Peking resolution sponsored by a group of Communist and nonaligned countries.

Albania, Cambodia and other countries sympathetic to Peking led the fight to seat the Chinese Communists. The Soviet Union and India — former champions of Peking—voted yes, but gave only lukewarm support to the bid.

The China debate lacked its usual steam this year, due mainly to the worsening dispute between the Soviet Union and Red China and a three-way split among the Western nations over how to break the stalemate.

DAYS OF DISCUSSION

During seven days of discussion preceding the balloting, most of the speeches on both sides were apathetic.

Communist bloc delegates who usually spearhead the drive to seat Peking were almost perfunctory in their support of the Chinese Reds. The most lukewarm backing came from the Soviet Union.

Western unity, which has been fragmenting for several years on the Chinese question, was shattered over the Italian proposal for a special U.N. committee to study the question for a year.

Britain and France were as cold toward the Italian plan as the Communists, making plain that it did not fit in with their desire to see Peking seated without further delay.

The United States finally agreed to support the Italian proposal mainly because it did not commit Washington to anything beyond authorizing a U.N. study. The United States was reported reluctant to switch its China policy at this stage because of developments in Indonesia, where Communist attempts at conquest were shattered, and because of signs of trouble inside Red China itself.

Harry Allen, Developer, Dies At 77

Private family funeral was held today for Harry B. Allen, 77, longtime head of the Belvedere land company who died Sunday night in a local hospital after a short illness.

A native of San Francisco, Allen started in the real estate business in 1910. As head of Allen and Co., a major real estate brokerage office in San Francisco, he developed Sea Cliff from sand dunes. He served as president of the San Francisco Real Estate Board and the California Real Estate Assn.

Allen had been associated with Belvedere since his boyhood. In 1935 he took over the Belvedere Land Co., originally incorporated in 1890, and the Allen family moved to their permanent home in Belvedere.

It was his vision that created the Belvedere Lagoon and established the unique character of much of the community's development.

A member of the Bohemian Club in San Francisco and of the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere, he was also active in his support of many community organizations. He was a member of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Belvedere.

He is survived at the family home at 334 Golden Gate Avenue by his wife, Winifred Bridge Allen, whom he married in Belvedere in 1914.

He is also survived by his sister, Mrs. Alexander Hill of Belvedere; two sons, David W. and Howard B. Allen of Belvedere; a daughter, Mrs. Donald B. Straus of New York, and 12 grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen were frequently world travelers and had just returned from an extensive trip to the Orient.

The family prefers that memorial contributions be made to Save-the-Redwoods League, 114 Sansome Street, San Francisco, for the redwood land purchase fund.

Mexican Police Ask New Mojica Quiz

By PAT PERRY

New evidence uncovered by Mexican police in the double slaying last week of a Mill Valley couple led authorities today to seek a Sacramento man who accompanied them to Mexico for additional questioning.

Sought for questioning by Sacramento police was George Mojica, a mystery man, unknown by any friends or relatives of Herman Hofer, 28, and Marjean S. Weis, 30, whose bodies were found near a quarry 30 miles north of Ensenada last Wednesday.

Edeberto Arcero, chief of detectives of the Baja California State Judicial Police in Tijuana, said Mojica was with the couple until at least eight hours before they were found by two hunters.

A possible motive for the double-murder was suggested today by a Sausalito friend of the couple, who claimed that Hofer, a heavy gambler, had won $20,000 at Tahoe less than a month ago, and probably carried the cash with him to Mexico.

San Diego police said no cash was found on the bodies.

SHOE SALES TAG

Arcero, and Armando Lopez Lugo, agent for the State Judicial Police in Ensenada, said the new evidence was a sales receipt for the purchase of a pair of women's shoes, and damage to Hofer's rented station wagon which appeared to have been caused by stones at the quarry.

Robert Trevino, San Diego police liaison officer, said he wants Sacramento police to pick up Mojica for additional questioning "in connection with taking the couple's suitcase from an Ensenada hotel room before he returned to the United States."

Police linked the sales receipt, the rented car, and Mojica's earlier account of his association with the couple.

When questioned by Sacramento police on Thanksgiving day, Mojica said one reason the couple went to Baja California was for Mrs. Weis to buy shoes there. Arcero said he found a sales receipt for a $16.64 pair of woman's shoes, purchased at Sommer and Kaufmann in San Francisco on Nov. 14.

AUTO FOUND

A 1967 white Ford station wagon, rented by Hofer in Chula Vista, was found Saturday in a residential area of Tijuana. Arcero said the woman who telephoned a city official about the car's location said it had been parked there since Nov. 23, the day of the murder.

Traveno said the car registered 146 miles on its gauge, within six miles of the exact distance from the Chula Vista agency to Ensenada and Back to Tijuana.

State judicial police said fingerprints were smeared on the car and were of no value, nor was there blood on the car.

However, Arcero said tracks at the stone quarry indicated the car was at the scene of the slaying. Fragments of rocks, apparently from the quarry, were

Woman Killed At Sausalito Train Crossing

A 58-year-old woman was killed by a train yesterday in Sausalito, the first such fatality anyone could recall in that city.

The victim was Zelma Hermine Bruveris, widowed refugee from Latvia, who had lived in Sausalito for a little over three months.

She was struck by a Northwestern Pacific Railroad train at noon as she crossed the tracks at an abandoned grade crossing in the Marinship area. She died two hours later of a fractured skull at Marin General Hospital.

The train's engineer, D. E. Sieg, 47, of Santa Rosa, said he was pulling five empty flatcars and a caboose at about eight miles per hour. He said he kept blowing his horn but Mrs. Bruveris continued slowly across the tracks.

It was raining at the time and Mrs. Bruveris, carrying an umbrella, appeared not to have seen or heard the train. She apparently had been shopping at the nearby Big G Supermarket, as she had an armful of groceries, and was on her way home when she elected to cross the tracks that parallel Bridgeway. She was hit by a grabiron on the locomotive.

Warren's Son Named Judge

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Earl Warren Jr. and Deputy Dist. Atty. John Boskovich were appointed judges of the Sacramento Municipal Court today by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Warren, son of California's former Republican governor, and now U.S. Chief Justice, is a Democrat who campaigned for Brown and served as a deputy director of the state's Chile-California program. Warren, 36, is a Sacramento attorney and president of the National Mental Health Association.

Boskovich, 42, has been supervising deputy district attorney in Sacramento since 1956. He succeeds Judge Arthur Eissinger, who has resigned.

Two Inches Of Rain; Another Storm Due

Yesterday's storm gave way to just plain grey skies today after dousing Marin County with more than two inches of rain and causing some power failures in the North County.

The United States Weather Bureau forecast cloudy skies through tomorrow. There is a chance that another storm, now centered in the Gulf of Alaska, may arrive by then.

Highest rainfall reading was in Ross, where 2.26 inches were recorded in the 24 hours to 8 a.m. today. In San Rafael, 1.49 inches fell from noon yesterday to noon today.

Electric power failures plagued Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in Novato yesterday. They also interrupted some telephone service in the area and blanked traffic lights on Highway 101, snarling midday traffic.

First trouble came at 12:32 p.m., when a tree branch fell across a power line at Novato Boulevard and Eucalyptus Avenue, knocking out power to 800 or 900 customers, according to Z. P. Melcon, district electrical supervisor for P.G.&E.

When the wire broke, it burned the telephone cable serving the area west of Novato toward Stafford Dam, according to Ross Wright, manager of Western California Telephone Co.

An underground cable failed at 1:34 p.m. at the substation at Sweetser and Machin Avenues, cutting power to 1,800 customers, mainly west of Highway 101, but to some in the east.

This failure stopped the two traffic lights on the highway and Novato police were called to unsnarl traffic. It also blanked power to some of the homes affected by the first outage, Melcon said. Power was restored by 2:33 p.m., he said.

At 2:50 p.m., a power pole broke at Seares Point in Sonoma County, shutting off power to about 50 customers in the Black Point area. A transformer burned out on Ridge Road at 5:15 p.m., shuttng off power to seven customers for three hours.

At 4:26 p.m., across the Petaluma River, a tree branch broke the line on Lakeville Road and power was not restored until midnight, Melcon said.

Other rainfall figures, for the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today, included:

Larkspur, 2:05 inches; San Anselmo, 1:58; Woodacre, 2; Novato 1.06; Santa Venetia, 1.75; Terra Linda, 1.4; Mill Valley, 2:01; Sausalito, 1:30; Tamalpais Valley, 1.52; Point Reyes Station, 1.7; Belvedere, 1.26, and Bolinas, .77.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Four North Korean gunboats fired on a group of South Korean fishing boats on the east coast, south of the military demarcation line today and abducted South Korean fishermen, Seoul's radio Donga reported.

Auto Wreck Claims Life Of Hub Man

An 89-year-old San Anselmo man was fatally injured Sunday when the automobile in which he was a passenger was involved in a three-car crash on Highway 121 near Sonoma.

Joseph Signorelli, who resided with his son, Angelo C. Signorelli, at 90 Ridge Road, San Anselmo, died in Sonoma Valley Hospital two hours after the 5:10 p.m. crash.

He was riding in a southbound car driven by his daughter, Mrs. Marie C. Graham, 62, of San Anselmo, when it veered off the edge of the road. In swinging back onto the pavement, it hit a northbound car driven by David W. Ross, 60, of Sonoma, the California Highway Patrol reported. It then went into a spin and struck another southbound car driven by Robert S. Volosing, 43, of San Francisco.

Mrs. Graham was given emergency treatment at Sonoma Valley Hospital and transferred to Kaiser Hospital in Vallejo, where she was treated for a broken left arm. Ross and his passenger, Charlotte Ross, 47, were treated for minor injuries at Sonoma Valley Hospital. Volosing was unhurt.

Signorelli operated a ranch and vineyard in the Boyes Springs area for many years before moving to San Anselmo three years ago to reside with his son.

Born in Italy, Signorelli came

Quint Goes On Formula

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The only surviving Aranson quintuplet, Roni Sue, was put on formula for the first time today and her condition was described as "quite good."

The four-day-old infant, however, developed jaundice, and officials at Magee Women's Hospital said a decision would be made within the next few days on whether an "exchange" blood transfusion would be necessary.

The hospital emphasized that jaundice is common among premature babies.

Roni Sue the first born of the five girls and the second heaviest at one pound 11 ounces was "tolerating the formula well" and has improved in breathing, the hospital said.

Roni Sue was the strongest at birth and the only quint able to breathe normally without the aid of a mechanical respirator. She passed the 72-hour critical period early today.

A fourth quintuplet, Marci Jill, died yesterday

Balmer Doing Fine

Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer was reported "doing fine" today at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco where he was operated on for a hernia. Balmer is expected to be in the hospital for the rest of the week.

More Raisin Pickets

FRESNO (AP) — Demonstrations against Fresno area raisin packers spread to a second packing plant today. Independent raisin grape growers began picketing the Lion Packing Co. plant south of Fresno. Earlier pickets paraded outside the Bonner packing plant to protest a $230 a ton offer from Bonner for 1966 crop raisins. The growers want a minimum of $250 per ton for their fruit.

Kiesinger Sees Friendly Relations

BONN, Germany (AP)—Kurt Georg Kiesinger, generally expected to become West Germany's chancellor, today predicted good relations with both the United States and France.

Kiesinger

Kiesinger, Christian Democrat minister president governor of Baden Wuerttemberg State, is known for his friendliness to President Charles de Gaulle's government just across the Rhine. Asked if closer West German ties with France would impair those with the United States, he replied:

"I don't think so. I always refuse to be imprisoned in the cage of a wrong alternative. I am quite convinced we will deepen our relations with France and the United States. I know there are difficulties but these difficulties can be solved if good will is prepared to solve them."

Kiesinger answered questions for a group of reporters as he was going into talks with Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin, the Socialist leader who is expected to be vice chancellor and foreign minister.

Dancer Wins Suit

LONDON (AP)—Ballet dancer Louis Conrad, 37, was awarded damages of $15,400 yesterday for breaking an arm in his first judo lesson. The court was told Conrad's right arm was fractured while practicing an ogoshi —a major hip throw in the James Bond tradition. The break did not heal for nearly two years.

Bishop Pike Speaks

NEW YORK (AP) — The Right Rev. James A. Pike, retired Episcopal Bishop of California, has made his first speaking engagement since last month when the House of Bishops censured him for what it termed the irresponsible nature of some of his remarks. The 53-year-old bishop called on his fellow churchmen to acknowledge that there are "lots of questions about religion where no absolute answers are possible."

Anti-Rhodesia Talks

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson sent high-level envoys to Washington and Salsibury today — seeking U.S. backing for possible economic sanctions against Rhodesia while still searching for a compromise with its white minority regime. Wilson met with his Cabinet but held off making a final decision on whether to break with Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Wage Hike Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major contract agreements this year have produced bigger wage increases than in any of the past three years, says the Labor Department. Increases won this year by 1.3 million workers have averaged 3.8 per cent annually, compared with hikes of 3.3 per cent in 1965, 3 per cent in 1964.

Safeway Says Bingo Game To End Soon

OAKLAND (AP)—Housewives' protests to rising food prices contributed heavily to Safeway Stores' decision to end its "Bonus Bingo" promotional game, the firm's president says.

The grocery chain president, Robert A. Magowan, announced yesterday that "Bonus Bingo" would be ended after the first week in January.

"We don't think they (the games) have raised prices," said Magowan, "but if the housewife thinks that, we won't fight her."

Magowan also said that the game, which began last January, seems to "have run its course."

"It ceased to have the drawing power it had when we first started," he added.

But he credited the game with providing a whopping first half sales increase this year.

Customers were given numbered stamps to poste in books containing bingo-like charts. Winners were determined much as in bingo.

Conspiracy Convictions Of Mendocino Figures Upheld

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The conspiracy convictions of two justices of the peace, a Mendocino County deputy sheriff and a Ukiah housewife were upheld yesterday by the State Court of Appeal.

The 1963 convictions climaxed the so-called Mendocino County warrant war involving the issuance of repeated warrants for the arrest of Mendocino County Sheriff Reno Bartolomie.

Convictions of conspiracy to obstruct justice were affirmed for Justices Maurice Tindall and Glenn Evans of Anderson Valley and Round Valley justice courts respectively, deputy Robert Morton and Mrs. Shon Salisbury.

The warrants were an outgrowth of a dispute between Mrs. Salisbury and her former husband, Darrel. She and Morton claimed they were fighting a plot to protect her ex-husband from a wife-beating charge.

On complaints signed by Morton, 57 arrest warrants were issued by the two judges. All the warrants were quashed, but the recipients were in court almost constantly.

Eventually the warrants involved also State Sen. Frank Peterson, then Mendocino County district attorney, State Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, San Francisco Deputy Police Chief Al Nelder, and San Francisco Dist. Atty. Thomas C. Lynch, now attorney general for California.

Judge Tindall was fined $4,000 and placed on five years' probation; Judge Evans got a $2,000 fine and five years' probation; Morton got a year in jail and four years probation, and Mrs. Salisbury got 30 days in jail.

Automation Holds Up Pay Checks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — To 500 Christmas season postal workers who haven't been paid here, there was the knowledge that the mixup had been accomplished in the most modern way.

Their first paychecks, due last Friday, failed to make it through the Automated Postal Data Center at San Mateo. The center handles payrolls for California, Nevada, Hawaii and the Pacific islands.

"The center apparently couldn't handle the sudden rush of new work," said Charles Harper, San Francisco Post Office executive, who indicated the rest of the region might have been affected as well.

Joseph Leone, acting president of the United Federation of Post Office Clerks, Local 2, said the seasonal workers probably won't be paid until next year.

Armored Car Strike Ends

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A strike that idled approximately 500 drivers and guards of two Southern California armored car firms has been ended.

Terms were not disclosed yesterday for the contract that terminated that had been a dispute effective from Fresno to San Diego in California and eastward to Las Vegas, Nev.

A week ago the drivers and guards employed by Brinks, Inc. and Armored Car Transport left their jobs over a wage and safety provisions dispute. The employees belong to Teamsters Local 396.

During the strike, banks used secret methods to transfer funds.

SEAT FOR WINTER — Strong, freezing winds sweeping off Lake Mendota at Madison, Wis., decorated this swing seat with a coating of ice. Wisconsin, along with much of the northern central U.S., had cold, stormy weather yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

Storm Letup Due In Upper Michigan

DETROIT (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted some relief today from the heavy snow and gales that stranded more than 1,000 persons, closed roads and schools and disrupted electric service to 10,000 homes in Upper Michigan yesterday.

Detroit weather officials said snow in western and northern Michigan would diminish, but warned of heavy drifting and blowing in the northeastern part of the state.

As the storm moved eastward last night it deposited one inch of snow on metropolitan Detroit.

Sixteen inches were reported by nightfall around the Marquette area. Drifts ranging to five and six feet high blocked U.S. 2, a main route along the bottom of Michigan's Upper Peninsula. U.S. 41, between Skandia and Ishpeming, was open to one-lane traffic only.

More than 180 persons remained overnight on the car ferry, City of Midland 41, which ran onto a sand bar at Ludington harbor.

The snow stranded some 225 cars and seven buses near Engadine in the southern part of the Upper Peninsula Sunday night and yesterday morning. Some 500 persons took refuge in the Engadine Town Hall.

About 400 of the stranded motorists were students returning to Michigan Technological University at Houghton after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Another 200 were sheltered at Escanaba where six inches of snow was reported, and 100 spent the night in a National Guard armory at Manistique.

Main arteries from Marquette eastward and southward were not expected to be cleared before this afternoon, Michigan state police said.

Blustery weather hit areas across the lower Great Lakes region and into the eastern states. Cold air dipped into parts of the Southland.

Up to 3 inches of snow fell in sections of northern Ohio and western New York State in a six-hour period during the night. Five inches of snow earlier had been reported in McKean County in northwestern Pennsylvania and six inches fell in a storm in Western New York yesterday.

Seven inches of snow covered the Great Smoky Mountains of Tennessee, with 4 inches reported at Newfound Gap on the Tennessee-North Carolina line. The mercury dropped to the 20s.

Early morning temperatures were in the 40s and lower from the Gulf region to central Florida. Southerly winds brought mild conditions to New England, with readings higher in some areas in the far northeast states than in northern Florida.

A fresh surge of cold air moved across the northern Rockies and a cold wave warning was in effect for Montana eastward to the Continental Divide.

LBJ Bolsters Home Builders Loan Financing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is giving the sagging home building industry a $250-million emergency transfusion. Some builders hail it as a step in the right direction. Others say it is too little, too late.

President Johnson ordered the release yesterday of one-fourth of the $1 billion in special federal mortgage funds authorized by the last Congress. The government said the action would permit construction of 15,000 new homes.

Due largely to a shortage of mortgage funds, the housing industry is mired in its deepest recession in two decades. Total housing starts in October dropped to 83,100 units — the lowest since World War II and more than 50,000 under October 1965.

The $250 million will be used to buy mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration on new homes costing a maximum of $15,000, or $17,500 in "high cost areas" and $22,500 in Hawaii, Alaska and Guam.

Release of the federal mortgage funds coincided with these other developments related to the nation's economy:

Officials in Washington said no decision has been made on whether the President will ask Congress next year to raise taxes.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., predicted a sharp division in the new Congress over the issue of possible tax increases.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said the GOP will keep plugging for a sharing of federal revenues with the states even if federal spending is cut and taxes raised.

LBJ Criticized For Telegram

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Arthur A. Calwell, head of the opposition Labor party which was defeated in Australia's general election last week, today criticized President Johnson for sending a congratulatory message to the winner—Prime Minister Harold Holt.

In the message, Johnson pledged continued U.S. support in defense of Australia and praised Holt's "far-sighted leadership."

Calwell said "as an Australian I resent the patronage, the interference and the arrogance with which the message reeks."

The election results should not lead Johnson to think that Australia is becoming "a satellite territory of the United States," he said.

B-52 Bombers Strike Troop Concentration

SAIGON (UPI) — America's giant B-52 bombers, now capable of their greatest destructive force since first used in the war, today struck Communist troop concentrations near the Cambodian border.

Military spokesmen said the Guam-based bombers pounded a suspected Viet Cong stronghold 260 miles north of Saigon in a predawn raid supporting American ground forces in the Operation Paul Revere IV battle area.

The high-altitude assault, spokesmen said, came on the heels of a series of ground skirmishes yesterday in which U.S. infantrymen reported 53 Communists killed. Most of the action was in the same dense jungle area struck by the B-52s. today.

A military spokesman said the Viet Cong attacked two U.S. Navy landing craft yesterday afternoon in the My Tho river as they were carrying rice seed to Chau Doc, in the Mekong delta 40 miles south of Saigon. The Americans suffered no casualties when the guerrillas fired 25 rounds of automatic weapons; guerrilla losses to return fire was not known.

Farther south in the Mekong delta, the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Point Comfort provided gunfire support for a Special Forces Green Beret unit battling 20 Viet Cong. The cutter also rescued 14 refugees from the combat area 195 miles southwest of Saigon. Casualties were not reported.

The stratofortresses, first put to action in the summer of 1965, are described as the U.S. assault weapon most feared by Communists in Viet Nam. Because of their high altitude capacity, their presence usually remains undetected until the force of their bombing is felt.

It was disclosed only yesterday by an informed source in Washington that the expanded B-52 bomber forces now are geared to hit Viet Nam targets with 600 tons of bombs a day—a 33 per cent increase in bombing rate.

Police Plan No Abortion Class Action

Corte Madera Police Chief Frank L. Nelson said today the police department has no plan to interfere with an abortion class scheduled at a Corte Madera home Thursday night.

Patricia Maginnis, longtime opponent of present abortion laws, has announced a series of "do-it-yourself" abortion classes at the home of Polly Strand, 322 Robin Drive. Miss Maginnis has organized such classes — including after-abortion care and where to get abortions abroad — in Long Beach, Santa Rosa and Sacramento.

Chief Nelson said, "Either she is a sincere person, or this is a publicity stunt." He said he did not believe the classes would be illegal, unless, as classes in a home, they violated zoning laws.

Nelson said that he understood the penal code to ban only performing abortions or directing someone to an abortionist.

The chief expressed concern, however, that "some little girl, who is pregnant, might attend the class and then go home and try to do something about it herself." He said, "Anything like that would be most unfortunate."

Meanwhile, it was reported that the Strand home might be picketed during the class Thursday by a group of outraged women.

SLAYINGS

found on the undercarriage of the vehicle yesterday.

Mojica told authorities last week he had accompanied Hofer and Miss Weis to Ensenada and registered for them at a hotel room. He said he waited for them, and then returned to the United States, paying $16 fare to an Ensenada cab driver.

But Trevino said today Mojica brought the couple's luggage with him. "I want to know why," said Trevino.

Dr. Hector Hors, Baja California state autopsy surgeon, told police it was his opinion that the couple was dead less than eight hours when discovered by two hunters at 4:30 a.m. Nov. 23.

Robert Grunnett, assistant manager of the Sausalito garage run by Hofer and his brother Hans, said, "We never heard of Mojica until after the slaying occurred." Hans Hofer also told police he'd never heard of him.

A joint funeral for the slain couple, who planned to be married, is scheduled for tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael. Burial will be private.

Marjean S. Weis, 30, is survived by two sons by a former marriage, Steven and Scottie Schinkel of Oakland; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Weis of San Bruno, a brother and two half-brothers, Jerry Weis, Douglas and William Freeman, all of San Bruno. She was a native of Oregon.

Hermann Hofer Jr., 28, is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Hofer of Heidelberg, Germany, and seven brothers and sisters, Gertrude, Ursula, Dietman and Else Hofer of Germany; Ingeborg Hofer of Boston, Mass.; Gisela Linnenbach of San Francisco, and Hans Hofer of Mill Valley. He was a native of Germany.

said the grade crossing at Harbor Drive had been "closed" for a long time, but was not barred in any way.

No one at Northwestern's parent Southern Pacific Co. could recall any other such death in Sausalito in the railroad's long history.

Mrs. Bruveris and her son, Aivars Bruveris, came to the United States in 1951 after the death of her husband, Karlis. They lived in New York until about a year and a half ago, when her son, an industrial designer, came to the Bay Area.

Mrs. Bruveris followed later and lived with her son and daughter-in-law at 616 Nevada Street. Her sister, Elza Zunitis, lives in British Columbia.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Frank J. Keaton Mortuary, Sausalito.

In Good Condition

Pearl Joan Svacci, 49, of Via LaCumbre, Greenbrae, was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital after suffering a cut scalp and multiple bruises yesterday at 2:05 p.m. When her northbound car swerved on Highway 101 near the Alto Wye, crossed over three lanes, and struck the chain-link fence at the highway's edge, according to California Highway Patrol.

OBITUARIES

Frank M. Skinner

Frank M. Skinner, a great-grandson of Don Rafael Garcia—the first settler to bring his family to Marin—died yesterday at his Petaluma home after a long illness. He was 73.

A native of Livermore, Skinner spent his youth in Olema and in Bolinas, where his great-grandfather had been the first white settler in 1834.

Stories of Rafael Garcia's early years on his rancho, Los Baulines — which he later released to his brother-in-law, Don Gregoria Briones—have formed the basis of the county's history.

Skinner was a son of the former Laurel Garcia, granddaughter of the settler. His parents operated a ranch at Bolinas for many years.

He was a carpenter and worked for various contractors in the district before retiring because of ill health 16 years ago.

He was a member of American Legion Post 572 at Bolinas, which he founded 27 years ago, and of Veterans of World War I, Barracks 199 of Petaluma.

Survivors are his wife, Ethel Skinner; five daughters, Mrs. Rowena Thornton of San Rafael, Betty J. Skinner and Rafael Skinner of Petaluma, Mrs. Loretta Brower of Lodi, and Mrs. Ethel Haiden of Novato; four sons, Frederick Skinner of San Francisco, Peter E. Skinner of Petaluma, S/Sgt. Frank M. Skinner Jr. of South Carolina, and M/Sgt. Robert Johnson of Maine, and 26 grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered tomorrow at 9 a.m. at St. Vincent de Paul Church, Petaluma. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno. Rosary will be recited today at 8 p.m. at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

MRS. CARNIGLIA

Mass of Requiem for Lenore V. Carniglia, a resident of Marin for all of her 82 years, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Mission Chapel of St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael.

Mrs. Carniglia died Sunday after a brief illness at a local rest home where she had lived for several years.

Mrs. Carniglia was born in Sausalito in 1878 to Antoinette and Giacomo Martola, who had arrived there in 1874 from Genoa, Italy. She was educated in the public schools in Marin.

She and her husband, Rudolph Carniglia, a wholesale produce man in San Francisco, built their home at 513 Bridgeway, Sausalito, where they lived until his death in 1951.

From 1951 until entering the rest home, she lived with her niece, Mrs. Marie Jukich in San Anselmo and, later, in San Rafael.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Harry M. Williams mortuary, San Rafael. Entombment will be at Holy Cross Mausoleum, Colma.

PAUL G. SPROETE

Private funeral was held today for Paul G. Sproete, 59, of 1125 Second Street, Novato, a retired carpenter who was active in civic affairs.

Sproete died Sunday at his home, apparently of a heart attack.

A native of Langensalza, Germany, he came to the United States in 1925, living in San Anselmo for 14 years and then moving to Novato. He worked as a carpenter until ill health forced his retirement six years ago.

It was his active interest in city government for which he was best known. He was a familiar figure at Novato city council meetings, where he always fought for economy in government. At planning commission meetings, he always spoke out against planning and zoning regulations which he felt would be a hardship on older and poorer families.

He was a member of Carpenters Union Local 35.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth; a son and daughter, Kenneth J. and Patricia Sproete of Novato, a brother, Martin Sproete of Germany; two sisters, Amanda Grani of Baden, Germany, and Mrs. Clara Faust of Redwood City, and two grandchildren.

Burial was in Marin Memorial Gardens in Novato, directed by Redwood Chapel Funeral Home. The family prefers memorial contributions in his name to the heart fund.

DELLA GILLETTE

Private funeral for Della May Gillette of 315 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael, was held today at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Mrs. Gillette, a retired registered nurse, died in a local hospital Sunday after a long illness. She was 65. Her husband, Royal Gillette, a salesman, died in 1940.

Mrs. Gillette lived in Marin County 34 years and in California 40 years. She was born in North Dakota. Her last nursing job, before retiring about three years ago, was in a doctor's office in San Rafael.

She is survived by three daughters, Diane Von Wiedenfield of Iowa, Ellen Fulton of Antioch, and Jane Allen of Texas, and six grandchildren.

Burial was in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery in San Rafael. The family requested contributions to the Marin branch of the American Cancer Society.

MARY B. FARTHING

Requiem Mass for Mary B. Farthing of 35 Filbert Avenue, Sausalito, a resident of Marin County for 46 years, will be offered at 9 a.m. Friday at Star of the Sea Church, Sausalito.

Mrs. Farthing, 71, died in a local hospital Sunday after a long illness. A native of Colorado, she lived in California 48 years.

She worked for about 12 years in the office of C. H. Hittenberger Co., San Francisco, a surgical apparel firm. Her husband, William L. Farthing, died in 1946.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mary H. Schultz of Sausalito; a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Gleason of Trinidad, Colo. and six grandchildren.

Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno. Rosary will be recited at 7:45 p.m. Thursday at the Frank J. Keaton Mortuary in Sausalito.

ELSIE H. FROST

Funeral for Mrs. Elsie Harwood Frost, 0, of Santa Rosa, mother of Mrs Marilyn Whitehead of San Rafael, was scheduled today in Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Frost died Saturday in a Santa Rosa hospital after long illness. She was a native of Oakland and lived there until 28 years ago, when she moved to Santa Rosa.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Whitehead and Mrs. Henrietta Foster of Santa Rosa; two brothers, William Harwood of Lafayette and Albert Harwood of San Jose; a sister, Mrs. Edith Elliott of Santa Rosa, and seven grandchildren.

KATHERINE McCLURE

Mrs. Katherine H. McClure, 71, of Corte Madera died yesterday in a local hospital after a brief illness.

County Coroner Frank J. Keaton said an autopsy was performed because Mrs. McClure swallowed a quantity of Antrol, an ant poison, on Nov. 12. She was depressed about ill health, he said.

Requiem Mass will be offered Thursday at 11 a.m. at St. Patrick's Church, Larkspur. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno, at 1 p.m. Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in Keaton's Chapel, San Rafael.

A native of Amador County, Mrs. McClure had lived in Marin County for 60 years. She and her husband, William, a retired Marin Municipal Water District mechanic, resided at 1 Arrowhead Lane, Corte Madera.

She is survived by her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Long of Corte Madera; a brother, John Leonesio of Fairfax, and four grandchildren.

COL. MEREDITH L. WILSON

Funeral arrangements for Col. (USAF Ret.) Meredith L. Wilson, 72, of 716 Lamont Avenue, Novato, who died last Friday in a Martinez hospital of a heart attack, are pending at the Redwood Chapel in Novato.

A native of San Francisco, Wilson joined the Signal Corps in 1918. He was a career officer, retiring in 1948.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge in Sacramento.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. E. Pulley Jr. of Terra Linda, and Dianna S. Wilson of Vacaville; four sons, Donald M. Wilson of Paradise, Butte County; George L. Wilson of Belden, Plumas County; Lt. Edwin W. Wilson of San Ramon, Contra Costa County, and Kenneth Wilson, and 14 grandchildren.

Burial will be in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

JOSEPH STEWART

Funeral for Joseph C. Stewart, a former resident and businessman in San Rafael for many years, was held yesterday in Alameda, where he moved in 1949.

He died Saturday in an Alameda hospital after a long illness.

Born in Oakland, Stewart came to Marin County as a child with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart.

During the 1930's he was a partner in a sporting goods store on Fourth Street, San Rafael, and later went into a retail paint store business with a brother in Richmond.

He is survived by his wife, Helen M. Stewart; a son, Charles B. Stewart of Los Angeles; a daughter, Mrs. Cornelius Sullivan of Greenbrae; two stepdaughters, Mrs. George Greene of Campbell and Mrs. James Stroube of Layafette; a sister, Mrs. Jess Veal of San Francisco; a brother, Clement J. Stewart of Richmond, and 11 grandchildren.

The family prefer memorial contributions to the Marin County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

PROSPER E. RUFER

Prosper E. Rufer, 74, of Sonoma Mission Inn, Boyes Hot Springs, Sonoma County, father of Prosper F. Rufer of San Rafael, died yesterday at a rest home in Sonoma County after a six-month illness.

Rufer was a retired employee of the town of Atherton, San Mateo County. He was a member of the California State Retired Employees Assn.

A native of Paris, France, he had lived in California for more than 60 years.

Surviving are his son, Prosper F. Rufer, of San Rafael; a brother, Frederic Rufer, of San Carlos, San Mateo County, and three grandchildren.

Private funeral will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at Halsted and Co., San Francisco. Burial will be in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

ALICE LEWTAS

Private funeral was scheduled today for Alice D. Lewtas, a resident of San Rafael for the past four years, at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Miss Lewtas died Sunday in a local hospital after a long illness.

Since coming to Marin County, she had made her home with a sister, Teresa E. Lewtas, at 1311 Clinton Avenue, San Rafael.

She was a retired telephone operator in the San Francisco area and a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

She is survived by her sister.

ADRIAN MATHIESON

Funeral was scheduled today for Adrian Mathieson, 78, of 655 Canyon Road, Novato, at the Chapel of Marin funeral home in Novato. He died Sunday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Norway, Mathieson came to the United States 48 years ago. He had lived in Novato for 18 years, working as a gardener until ill health forced him to retire several years ago.

He has no known survivors.

Burial was to be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

PASQUALE BALDI

Requiem Mass for Pasquale Baldi, 84, of 676 Olive Avenue, Novato, who died Sunday at his home, apparently of a heart attack, will be offered at 10 a.m. Thursday at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato.

A native of Italy, Baldi had worked for the Panfiglio family for more than 50 years after coming to this country.

He is survived by nieces and nephews in Italy.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Redwood Chapel funeral home in Novato. Entombment will be in Mount Olivet Mausoleum in San Rafael.

DEATHS

GILLETTE — In San Rafael, Nov. 27. Della May Gillette, wife of the late Royal Gillette; mother of Diane Von Wiedenfield, Ellen Fulton and Jane Allen; grandmother of six grandchildren. A native of North Dakota.

Personnel Commission Shuns McGoran Probe

Marin County Personnel Commission members made it fairly clear yesterday that they were not about to get into a detailed discussion of the John H. McGoran case. In fact, the commission sidestepped development of a code of ethics for county employees.

McGoran charged that he was beaten by two Larkspur police officers after a barroom scuffle, arrested on improper charges, and was unable to get anyone to investigate his complaint.

Two months ago, Ann McCorry of Greenbrae Boardwalk, Larkspur, suggested that the newly constituted personnel commission look into the case to see if the district attorney's office had conducted its inquiry properly. Miss McCorry also cited a charge against Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom to the effect that he was involved in politics of Marin Municipal Water District.

Commmissioners yesterday said they had all read reports of the McGoran case in the Independent-Journal, but they did not discuss it. They talked about a code of ethics suggested for county employees by County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Even this was not discussed at length. "I see this as kind of a mushball, myself," Commission Chairman Margaret Lucas declared.

The commission eventually asked that a code be prepared by the Marin County Employees Assn., and Frederick H. Ward, association manager, agreed to take on the assignment. Commissioner Bella H. Aaron will serve as liaison.

The commission agreed that a sub-committee should be assigned the task of preparing regulations for employees, saying this would deal with specifics on conduct, where a code of ethics would give general guidelines.

Commissioner Victor P. Reed was absent.

Christmas Block Party Scheduled

The Christmas block party on Florence Avenue, San Anselmo, will begin at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 17.

Residents form around a pot-bellied stove at the end of the block and sing and decorate a tree. Refreshments also are served, and gifts are distributed to the children. Chairman is Gerald L. Cruthers of 9 Florence Avenue.

Secret Session Opinion Draws New Challenge

Attorney Bella H. Aaron, a member of the Marin County Personnel Commission, was not satisfied yesterday with an opinion given by County Counsel Dougies J. Maloney.

Mrs. Aaron, often at odds with Maloney in the past, disputed the county counsel's views on the Ralph M. Brown Act, which prohibits closed meetings of public bodies, as the act relates to commission meetings.

Only exceptions in the act for closed meetings are to hear charges against an employee or to discuss hiring or firing an employee.

Maloney said the act would have limited application to the personnel commission since it had no employees. He also said that the personnel ordinance calls for grievances to be heard by the commission in open session unless the employee involved requests a closed meeting.

Mrs. Aaron said the two laws seemed to be in conflict. She also challenged the "no employee" argument, saying the commission is concerned with all county employees.

"We want to know whether or not this commission is entitled to executive (closed) sessions," she said. Commissioners agreed and asked that Maloney, not present at yesterday's meeting, respond once more.

Earlier in yesterday's session, Mrs. Aaron said the county counsel's office had left the commission in a quandary on extension of probation periods for new employees from six months to one year. The county counsel's office had said that the law is uncertain, that it could not be determined whether such a change would require a vote of the people. The county's personnel ordinance was originally adopted by popular election.

"How do you determine what our legal position is?" Commission Chairman Margaret Lucas asked.

"That's his (Maloney's) job," Mrs. Aaron snapped. 'That's what he's getting paid for."

Miss Lucas suggested the commission make recommendations to the board of supervisors, who could then adopt the changes if legally possible without a popular vote. The extensions recommended yesterday covered most of the administrative and professional classification and sworn law officers.

'In' Gang Swings At Capote Party

NEW YORK (AP) — It was hard to decide who was belle of Truman Capote's much - touted masked ball last night—Lynda Bird Johnson, Kay Graham or agile Alice Roosevelt Longworth —but there was no doubt that he was the host with the most, the idol of the "in" crowd.

The bash cost Capote an estimated $20,000, sheer peanuts in comparison to the $2 million he is expected to realize in royalties from "In Cold Blood", including film rights.

The President's glamorous elder daughter — a working girl — danced until 2 a.m. with several partners.

HONORED GUEST

The honored guest, publisher Kay Graham, sat out few of the dances.

Mrs. Longworth, daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt, sat out the dance tunes by Peter Duchin and the Soul Brothers. Nevertheless, she was surrounded until the wee hours by various personalities.

At one time, at the same red-clothed table, sat three members of White House families — Lynda Bird chatting animatedly with Mrs. Longworth while Margaret Truman Daniel listened.

MANY DANCERS

For endurance on the dance floor the prizes went to Lauren Bacall and bearded Jerome Robbins, who danced until they were wet with perspiration.

Mia Sinatra danced the fast ones with Roddy McDowell while her husband Frank chatted with Pat Lawford and Eunice Shriver, sisters of the late President John F. Kennedy. The late president's mother, Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, arrived early in the evening while Lee Radziwill, Mrs. John F. Kennedy's sister, was a glittering late comer in a silver bugle-beaded dress.

Celebrities were plentiful at this imaginative party given in the grand ballroom of the Plaza Hotel at 59th Street and Fifth Avenue.

KANSAS GROUP

Throaty Tallulah Bankhead was "darling-ing" everybody.

At the next table, a contengent of nine from Gardan City, Kan., watched the doings of the beautiful people. They included Alvin Dewey and his wife. He was an investigator for the Kansas Bureau of Investigation, and a principal figure in Capote's book, "In Cold Blood.'

Capote set the fashion tone by insisting that his female guests wear black or white. Most wore combinations of the two.

The ladies and some of the gentlemen outdid themselves with imaginative and sometimes fantastically expensive masks.

Most ladies' masks were sprays of feathers twinkling with gems. John Gunther, author of those "Inside" books, kept his face inside a book-like box.

As for Capote, he wore a 35-cent mask from a Manhattan toy store.

Guilty Plea On Check Forgery

Richard A. Guyman, 29, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court yesterday to forging an $800 check on Sept. 20.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson dismissed a second count alleging theft of a vehicle from Redwood Lincoln-Mercury Inc., Corte Madera, following the plea to the check charge. He scheduled sentencing for Dec. 19.

Guyman and Linda Jo Galli, 22, both of San Francisco, were accused of the check forgery with intent to defraud Philip W. Hauser of San Francisco in Corte Madera, and with the vehicle theft.

Jury trial for Miss Galli is scheduled to be set the week of Dec. 12.

No Threats From Malaria

WASHINGTON (SS)—Chances are slim that malaria will become a health problem in the United States, in spite of the recent influx of military personnel infected with malaria returning from Southeast Asia.

Dr. David Sencer, chief of the Communicable Diseases Center in Atlanta, Ga., told a meeting of the World Health Organization that evidence accumulated over the last 15 years indicates a "relatively low malaria potential" in this country.

However, in view of the fact that increasing numbers of travelers, missionaries, Peace Corps workers and others are coming home from places where malaria is prevalent, malariologists are on the lookout for possible cases. More reliable techniques for their detection are needed, he reported.

Army Coup Costs Teen-Age African King His Throne

KINSHASA, the Congo (AP) — The army has taken over the tiny neighboring African kingdom of Burundi and deposed 19-year-old King Ntare V, the Burundi radio announced last night.

The coup was led by Premier Michel Michombero, an army captain who helped Ntare depose his father, 61-year-old King Mwambutsa IV, in July while the king was in Switzerland for medical treatment. Mwambutsa said then that extremist elements had made a puppet of his young son.

Burundi has been the scene of periodic Chinese Communist activity, and the Chinese are believed in the ascendancy again.

Ntare was in Kinshasa for the celebration of the first anniversary of Congolese President Joseph Mobutu's seizure of power. The young king was not available to newsmen today.

Michombero, in a broadcast from Bujumbura, the Burundi capital, said he had become chief of state and head of a committee of national liberation made up of 12 army officers. He said his foreign policy is unchanged, guaranteed the safety of foreigners, and asked other states not to interfere.

Burundi and the neighboring republic of Rwanda, both of which Belgium administered until July 1, 1962, had been torn for years by conflict between the rival Watutsi and Bahutu tribes. Watutsi extremists have had close contacts with the Chinese Communists.

U.S. Ambassador Donald D. Dumont and his public affairs officer were expelled in January after being accused of conspiracy in the October plot. They have not been replaced.

Located on the east-central border of the Congo, Burundi has an area of 10,747 square miles—slightly larger than Maryland—and a population of about three million. Rwanda is 581 square miles smaller and has about the same number of people.

In Geneva, Mwambutsa declined to comment on the upheaval in his homeland.

Split Votes Mark Session On Fairs

By FRANK FARRARA

After a sometimes heated two-hour discussion, the ad hoc committee on management of the Veterans Memorial auditorium and fairgrounds at the Marin Civic Center reached a split decision last night.

Committee members recommended 7-6 that members of "civic activities organizations" direct the proposed non-profit corporation to operate year-around activities at the center.

From the opening move to name a new chairman until the session ended, the committee was divided into two factions.

USERS' BOARD

Those who favored the recommendation contended it would provide representation from groups that would be using the center. As proposed, the center activities would be managed by directors elected by members of the selected groups, subject to approval by supervisors.

Opponents contended there should be broader representation. They proposed that a seven-member board be appointed by supervisors, and later expanded to nine members, five appointed by supervisors and four elected by members of the corporation.

Under the losing proposal by Charles Sayers all Marin residents who wanted to join could become members of the corporation by paying dues of $2.50 a year, which also would entitle them to admission at the Marin Art and Garden Fair.

MINORITY REPORT

This proposal was tabled by a 6-5 hand vote. Its proponents indicated they would file a minority report with county supervisors.

Voting for the recommendation that passed were Mrs. Lottie McWaters, fine arts; Mrs. Max Thelen Jr., dance; Mrs. Howard Morse, music; Mrs. John A. Miskimen; Mrs. Vera Schultz, senior activity center; Jiri Hermann, theatrical groups, and Mrs. Marcelle McCoy, manager of the Marin Art and Garden Fair, a non-member, voting as a proxy for Mrs. John F. McCarthy, who was absent.

Opposing were Joseph W. Wright, Novato rancher; B. L. Farlatti, representing visitor interest; Dennis Untermann, horticulture; Richard Tyler, Art and Garden Center fair committee; W. P. Duhamel and Sayers, veterans.

'VOICE OF PEOPLE'

Duhamel said: "I don't think control should be by groups, but should be by people of Marin. We elected supervisors as the voice of the people."

Mrs. Schultz proposed that the corporation be made up of members of civic, agricultural, governmental, recreational, cultural, commercial and industrial organizations "of countywide interests, in existence for three years and which show a promise of permanence." When others said it should be expanded to permit individuals, she added "other important entities" to the list.

Farlatti commented such a group "would be quite heavy on the cultural side."

Wright said, "We need a board of impartial directors."

Mrs. Schultz countered that the recommended plan would provide the services of interested groups. The supervisors asked the committee to recommend a way to have these groups represented in the corporation, she said.

LIST ORDERED

Wright said the proposal for a partly appointed and partly elected corporation board would "leave the door open" for representation of the groups.

The committee voted 8-5 to have a five-member sub-committee prepare a list of organizations to be included in the corporation and submit it to the full committee Dec. 12.

It also asked the sub-committee to draw up a method for electing corporation directors. There was a 6-6 vote on this when Mrs. McCoy abstained. Chairman Harold Stockstad, representing the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, voted with the "ayes" to make it 7-6 for sub-committee study.

Stockstad then appointed a sub-committee consisting of Untermann, Mrs. Miskimen, Mrs. Morse, Mrs. Thelen, and Mrs. McWaters.

Farlatti charged that it was a "stacked committee."

Grand Jury Set To Quiz Dr. Sheppard

CLEVELAND (UPI)—In a move which could re-open the Sheppard murder case, the prosecutor's office ordered Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard to appear before a grand jury Friday to tell what he knows about his wife's death.

Sheppard, acquitted Nov. 16 in his second trial for the 1954 murder of his first wife, Marilyn, cannot be tried again.

"It seems to me that they (the police) mean to re-open the case," Sheppard said after he was subpoenaed yesterday.

Sheppard has maintained for 12 years that his wife was bludgeoned to death by a "bushy-haired" intruder.

Subpoenas also were served on three men who investigated the July 4, 1954, murder in the Sheppards' suburban Bay Village home. They were Bay Village Police Chief Fred Drenkhan, a patrolman at the time of the murder; Jay Hubach, a former Bay Village police sergeant; and Patrick Gareau, a former Cleveland detective, now an attorney.

F. Lee Bailey, chief defense counsel for Sheppard's second trial, also was to appear before the grand jury.

Should Fair Emphasize Culture Or A Profit?

The ad hoc committee on management of the Veterans Memorial Auditorium and fairgrounds at the Civic Center tangled last night with the question of culture vs. commerce.

Members split on the make-up of a proposed non-profit corporation to operate the activities, and the procedure for selecting members of a corporation board.

Joseph W. Wright, Novato rancher, told members representing various cultural groups, "Some of you are afraid you'll be left out. Why?"

Jeri Hermann, representing theatrical groups, said: "We see an underlying theme to make this into a commercial undertaking with large commercial exhibits and a big convention hall. I'd like it to be truly for the benefit of the public and culturally uplifting. I would like to see a minimum of commercial."

B. L. Farlattti, representing visitor interest, said; "If you want culture, education, and finer things in life, they cost money. You must have equal money-making ventures. You can't have 100 per cent arts, and you can't have 100 per cent auto show, dog show and hot dog ventures."

Hermann said not all cultural events lose money. "My fears are not that cultural events will be money losers," he said.

Hermann claimed he was opposed to the "prostituting" of the center "for the sake of a balanced budget."

Farlatti contended that there should be a balance with days available for commercial events.

No Objections To Cable Plan

Things look plain sailing for an application by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. for permission to lay a submarine cable in San Francisco Bay, a spokesman for the Army Corps of Engineers said yesterday.

No objection has been received from the public or the State of California, and the corps has to dispose of one minor matter before granting the application.

The City of Richmond has raised no objection provided a water pipe it owns is laid alongside the cable. PT&T has indicated it would agree to do this, said the spokesman, and a letter of confirmation is awaited.

The telephone company wants to lay the cable on the natural bottom of the bay between Point San Quentin and Castro Point in Contra Costa County.

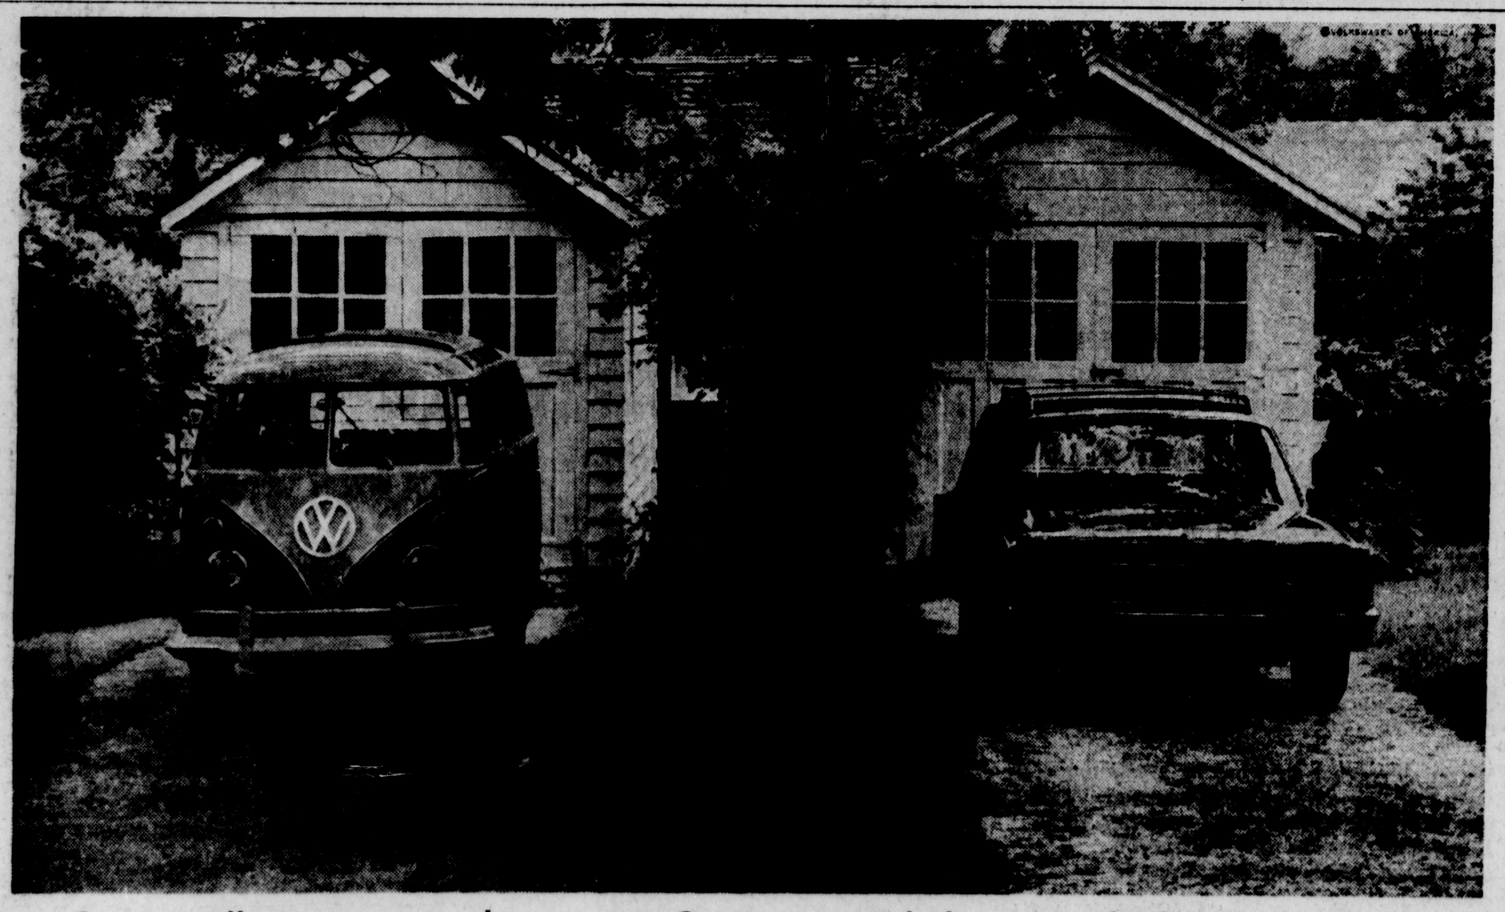
Open Wednesdays and Fridays 'Til Nine Until Christmas



Can it really carry as much as we say? Ask the man who borrows one.

The man on the right owns a conventional station wagon.

It's got twice the style of a Volkswagen Station Wagon, but only about half the carrying space.

So when he has more to carry than his wagon can handle in one trip, a trip next door can save him a trip.

(Our wagon has an unusually high roof, and an unusually wide 4' door in its side.)

But then maybe you don't live next door to a Volkswagen Station Wagon. In that case, you might want to buy one.

The Deluxe Model has 21 windows and a sliding sunroof. It seats 9 comfortably. It gets around 23 miles to the gallon. Its tires will last for about 35,000 miles. And it parks in 4' less space than most conventional wagons.

Of course, if for some reason you can't buy one, there's always the next best thing ... talk your neighbor into buying one.

SOME SORT OF A RECORD

Would you believe 49 consecutive male children in one family in the past 135 years? It's a fact. Mrs. Sandy Pitofsky of New York cradles her newborn son, Nicholas. Her husband holds baby picture of the couple's other three sons. At Nicholas' birth yesterday, a $5,000 bond went unclaimed again. It has been put up by the infant's 73-year-old grandfather, who would like to see a girl in the family, something that hasn't happened in several generations. (AP Wirephoto)

Seven Killed In Auto Crash

KENT, Tex. (UPI) —An automobile with a blown right rear tire lurched crazily across U.S.80 in the foothills of the Davis Mountains last night and collided with an oncoming car. Seven persons were killed.

It took nearly 12 hours to identify all the dead because the survivors were so badly injured they could not be questioned.

The dead were identified as Rev. Allen Lamar Gillum, 36, of Austin, Tex.; Mrs. Thelma Lloyd Coleman, 35; Eric Lloyd, 4; Frederick Coleman, 6; Ronald Coleman, 10; Larry Coleman, 4, and Linda Lloyd, 4, a Negro family of Oakland, Calif.

The injured included Charles Lloyd Jr., 327, and Otis Lloyd, 29, of Oakland, and James Dale Fry, 32; Bob Hansen, 37 and John Lamar Gillum, 14, all of Austin.

There will be no meeting of the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission this week because of lack of agenda items.

Reagan Will Review His Budget Tomorrow

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan gets a first look tomorrow at his biggest problem — a potentially record-breaking budget that might have to be balanced with new taxes.

An aide said the incoming Republican governor will confer with officials of the State Finance Department who have been working on the spending program for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1967.

It will be Reagan's first conference with the civil servants in the department's budget division, the permanent officials who will stay on under the new administration.

Also scheduled to confer with the budget makers is James S. Dwight, 32, of San Marino, a business executive who is Reagan's financial representative until a permanent finance director is appointed.

Even Republicans concede balancing the budget without a tax hike will be difficult. The current budget is a record $4.59 billion.

Reagan also has a meeting scheduled with Senate President Pro tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno.

Yesterday, his staff members spent the day conferring with the chiefs of some of the state departments.

They talked with Finance Director Hale Champion, and visited the Youth and Corrections, Highway Transportation, Resources and Health and Welfare agencies and the Agriculture Department.

Subdivision Road Plan Hearing Set

L. B. Fleischman of 9 West Shore Road, Belvedere, told Tiburon City Council last night that a bank rejected a loan to a prospective lot buyer in his Hilary Drive subdivision in Tiburon because there is no street yet in the subdivision. He has applied to the council to improve the unpaved portion of Hilary Drive.

In the audience the lot-buyer, Charles Stine, said the bank had later decided to give him the loan providing the street would go through.

This again brought up the question of Hilary Drive being made a through street or remaining closed, and of a blockade which was to have been removable but was installed as a permanent barrier.

Fleischman said the unfinished street "is a mess." He offered to make a substantial contribution to improve it.

Mayor John S. Hoffmire Jr. referred the problem to the lands and development committee and set a public hearing on Fleischman's request for Dec. 7 at 8 p.m. at city hall.

To Win, LBJ Must Change Policy: Morse

LOS ANGELES (AP)—President Johnson will not be re-elected in 1968 unless he changes United States foreign policy, says Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

Morse, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said at a news conference yesterday that he favors an end to escalation of the Viet Nam war, with the United Nations taking over policing.

"In Viet Nam we can win the military battles," Morse said, "but we cannot win the peace. If we continue escalation, we will have war in Asia that might last for generations.

"We think we have some right to police Asia, but every other Western power has already learned through bitter experience that you cannot do this. It is a lesson we will learn too."

Hilarita Unsuitable, Tiburon Council Told

Tiburonites blasted Hilarita housing as unsuitable for their community last night, with some urging the Tiburon City Council to deny the Marin County Housing Authority further use of the wartime-built low-income development.

"It's a disgrace for anyone to live in those places," declared Irving Moulin of 80 Mount Tiburon Road.

"We shouldn't have to pay the housing authority, through taxes, to violate our ordinances . . . The area should be single-family residences only," asserted Allan N. Littman of 100 Rolling Hills Road.

The matter of Hilarita housing was on the city council's agenda only for a report by Development Administrator Phillip Scott as prelude to a joint meeting with the Marin County Housing Authority.

So many residents showed up wanting to talk about the subject, that Mayor John S. Hollmire Jr. opened it for general discussion.

They talked. And some said the council should not even meet with the housing authority, but should merely notify it that the agreement for use of the land for public housing will not be renewed when it terminates in 1969.

Developer Kurt Heath suggested the Hilarita housing area would make a fine spot for a civic center.

A letter from Reed School District expressed interest in the property for expansion of the Reed School campus.

ZONING VIOLATIONS

Littman was not the only one who objected to the housing being in violation of the city's single-family residential zoning, but Mrs. Margaret Azevedo of 1875 Centro West, chairman of the county planning commission, pointed out the housing long predated the zoning.

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director of the county housing authority, said that agency was concerned only with what deficiency in the county the property could serve.

Moderate income housing is "in short supply," he noted.

Residents, however, made it plain they have other considerations regarding the property.

Anne L. Ellinwood, former city councilman, said a citizen advisory committee report had indicated there should be some moderate incoming housing on the peninsula. But Donald Moulin of 74 Mount Tiburon Road said the same committee reported the Hilarita area should be used for school expansion, a park, or single-family residences.

After an hour of talk, Mayor Hoffmire directed City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose to collect more facts and report further. He said there would be more public discussion of Hilarita housing before the city commits itself.

Mill Valley Completes Bernard Steps Repairs

Long-sought improvements to the Bernard Street steps in Mill Valley were completed two weeks ago, Parks and Recreation Director Don Dimitratos reported last night to the parks and recreation commission.

Rebuilding the rotted steps between Bayview and Summit avenues took $3,500 of the $5,000 the city council budgeted this year to repair steps in the city, he said. The remaining $1,500 will go to improve the first portion of the Dipsea Trail between Cascade Way and Marion Avenue. Work is to begin as soon as the city clears title to the trail.

Commissioners endorsed use of the golf clubhouse as a center for the performing arts, and agreed the use was compatible with continued use of the clubhouse by other private groups.

Addition of three lots to the Allen subdivision on West Blithedale Avenue was approved. The three lots reduce the Greenbelt around the subdivision by 1.5 acres to nine acres, but will not disturb the natural appearance of the greenbelt because access to the lots will be from a road inside the subdivision, Dimitratos explained.

A request by Mrs. Sarah Davis and Mrs. Elizabeth Terwilliger for a boat launching dock behind the community and youth center was referred to City Engineer Stanley M. Bala.

In a review of the master plan for parks and recreation, commissioners agreed to $1,500 in drainage improvements at Freeman Park. They also agreed not to expand Sycamore Park.

San Anselmo Burglar Takes Varied Loot

A thief forced a window and took $570 worth of equipment from the home of Marion G. Ray, 2 Meadowcroft Avenue, San Anselmo, Sunday night, according to San Anselmo police.

Missing from the house were a movie projector and camera, an adding machine, some cash, a record player, a cosmetic case full of personal documents including birth and marriage certificates, a case of doll's clothing, and two history books.

Land Swap Talked Over By Trustees

Sausalito and Mill Valley school trustees last night at a joint meeting discussed but took no action on annexation to the Sausalito district of the western side of Tennessee Valley, now split by the two districts.

Mill Valley trustees agreed to act on the proposal Dec. 12. Sausalito trustees already have approved the annexation.

The land swap of 968 acres was proposed by Sausalito to avoid duplication of school facilities in the valley and to improve the racial balance of pupils in the district.

Following the joint meeting, Sausalito trustees heard a report on new materials used at Richardson Bay School to accelerate Spanish classes.

Trustee David E. Freedheim was appointed legislative representative to the Marin County School Boards Assn.

Neighbors Say Ward At Home During Killing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Lawyers for both sides indicated they will present their last witnesses today in the murder trial of Max Ward, Sacramento painting contractor.

Ward is accused of killing ow Wilson, San Francisco AFL-CIO Painters' Union local secretary.

Final arguments in the trial, which began Nov. 9, may begin tomorrow.

Ward's neighbors, Henry and Phyllis Coulombe of Carmichael, and their daughter, Kim, 12, testified yesterday that Ward was at home with his own daughter, Karen, the night Wilson was shot, last April 5.

Norman Call, another Sacramento painting contractor, has testified that he drove the getaway car and that Ward was the triggerman in both the killing of Wilson and of Lloyd Green, a Painters' Union official shot at Hayward May 6. Call has been convicted of participating in the slaying of Wilson. There has been no arrest in the Green shooting.

Ice Plant's Top Floors Are Burned

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A three-alarm fire burned through the top two floors of a four-story abandoned ice plant today near Telegraph Hill.

The fire department had to use 146 men and 32 pieces of equipment in a two and a half hour battle to control the flames at 1075 Battery St.

HAVE YOU SEEN HER? — Diana Mench, 13, has been missing from her Petaluma home since the day before Thanksgiving. Her mother, Mrs. Delphine Mench of 1716 Gilrix Street, Petaluma, today asked anyone who has seen the girl to communicate with her. Diana lived in Corte Madera until six months ago.

Caldepop Lauds Highway Cutback

The California Depopulation Commission "applauds the decision of the Federal government to cut $700 million from its highway funds," D. C. Camp of Ross, originator of Caldepop, said today.

The group urges that remaining funds be spent outside California, Camp declared.

"Freeways create congestion," he said. "The congestion in California is already adequate if not more than adequate. However, this is not true of many other states. Proper allocation of federal highway funds could help provide a broader national base for congestion."

Lenin Offer To Contain Red Rule, Rejected By Wilson

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Woodrow Wilson once rejected an offer by Lenin to contain Communist rule to three small areas of the Soviet Union, according to an article published in a national magazine today.

The article in the current issue of Look was part of a book written in 1939 by Sigmund Freud and diplomat William C. Bullitt. The psychological-historical study of Wilson will be published soon.

MADE IN 1919

In it, Bullitt said the offer to the President was made in 1919 by Nikolai Lenin during the Paris Peace Conference ending World War I. He wrote that he personally negotiated with the Soviet leader and actually secured Lenin's promise to limit Communism to Moscow, a small area outside the city and to Leningrad.

Bullitt charged that when he made Lenin's offer known to Wilson the President turned it down.

A related article in the magazine by Allen W. Dulles, former head of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency, said that Bullitt failed to realize that Wilson was a "very sick man" at the time of the Paris meeting.

"Quite naturally," wrote Dulles, "Bullitt felt that it had been a considerable accomplishment to secure from Lenin a series of proposals that, if they had turned out to be sincere, might have helped, Bullitt believed, toward a better understanding between Moscow and the West."

'REAL DANGERS'

Dulles added: "It was human to believe this and to be bitter as he saw the frustration of the mission that he had carried out, despite considerable obstacles and real dangers.

"Bullitt, I feel, has neither forgotten this rebuff nor forgiven Wilson for it."

Bullitt said Lenin's offer included negotiating an immediate armistice on all fronts and according recognition to anti-Communist governments that had been set up in areas of the former Russian Empire, including Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Poland, Rumania, Lithuania, Siberia, the Crimea, Armenia, Georgia, more than have the Ukraine and the Western part of White Russia.

New PG&E Manager For Marin District

Donald L. Johnson today was named Marin District manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., succeeding George M. Henderson, who died last month. Johnson's appointment was announced by Elias S. Day, PG&E's North Bay Division manager.

The PG&E San Rafael office serves all communities of Marin County. Since 1962 Johnson has been manager of the division's customer services department.

Succeeds Henderson

A native of San Rafael, Johnson moved with his parents to Santa Cruz at an early age and was graduated from Santa Cruz High School. After attending San Jose State College, he joined PG&E in 1937, working in various capacities in the commercial and electrical departments.

In 1943 he joined the Army Air Corps and became a radar-bombardier, leaving the service in 1946 with the rank of second lieutenant.

After the war Johnson returned to PG&E in the accounting department. In 1954 he was named sales representative in Santa Rosa. Four years later he was named the division's first administrative analyst.

Johnson and his wife, Elinor, have four daughters and reside at 3 Tilden Drive, Novato. The eldest daughter, Mrs. David Bolton, lives in San Jose. The others, Kathy, Janise and Jenifer, are at home.

Warrant Issued For Man's Arrest

Bench warrant for arrest of Hezekiah Murphy, 42, charged with burglary, was issued yesterday in Marin Superior Court following his failure to appear for arraignment. Judge Joseph G Wilson set new bail at $2,000.

Murphy and Harold Donnie Burton, 27, both of Richmond, are accused of burglary of San Geronimo National Golf Club July 19. Court trial for Burton is to be the week of Jan. 9.

Hub Council To Act Upon Band Noise

San Anselmo Mayor John M. Reichmuth has called a special meeting of the San Anselmo City Council for 7:30 p.m. Thursday at City Hall to settle the question of whether Donald MacArthur can employ a two-piece band on weekends at MacArthur's Restaurant.

The council ordered MacArthur to stop using the band three weeks ago, but allowed it to play last Friday and Saturday nights so councilmen could check.

Neighbors of the restaurant, in the Lincoln Park area of San Anselmo, had complained repeatedly of the noise, but MacArthur installed soundproofing.

The four councilmen, who checked on the noise agreed that the band did not seem too loud from outside the restaurant, but without the special meeting, the question could not be settled until Dec. 13.

Joint Planning Study Draws City Criticism

Mill Valley planning commissioners last night deferred action on a proposed $130,000 joint count-cities study of a uniform zoning code, but made it clear that they felt the proposal was unimaginative and inadequate.

Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon said the commission agreed the proposal "was not bold enough" and objected that it would not provide a zoning map to enforce the results of the study.

Reporting to the commission, Bragdon said the proposal "appears to be over-structured with too much emphasis on techniques and the ordinance, and not enough emphasis on how the community's individuality will be retained . . . the new uniform ordinance should move us forward, not be merely a composite of our existing messes."

Proposed by County Planning Director Paul Zucker, the study would take two years.

"A very high priority should be given to preparing a general plan for the entire county," Bragdon said. Also, he noted, the first object of the proposal should be to write the ordinance "in newspaper English without the usual confusing legalese, planningese, zoningese and other strange constructions of most local ordinances."

Action on Zucker's proposal was deferred to Dec. 12. Bragdon's proposal will be forwarded to the county and all city planning commissions for their review.

Commissioners urged the county planning commission to take no action on precise plans for Marincello, to be considered Monday, until the open space on the master plan is dedicated to the county or preserved in some fashion.

Commissioners also asked county planners to take no action Monday on a proposed gasoline station on the north side of Shoreline Highway, west of Richardson Bay Bridge, until the city commission reviews the proposal.

Optimists Honor Three Marin Boys

Three southern Marin boys were honored by Mill Valley Optimists Club at the annual Youth Appreciation Week dinner in Santa Rosa.

Receiving optimist awards were Timothy Grayson, 9 son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Grayson, 611 Drake Avenue, Marin City; Patrick Bowen, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Bowen, 16 Morningsun Avenue, Almonte, and Steven Crain, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Crain, 306 Ferndale Avenue, Homestead Valley.

Milk Price Hike Asked For Marin

SACRAMENTO (CNS) -- The state department of agriculture announced it will hold a public hearing in Santa Rosa on Dec. 14 to consider increases in the minimum wholesale and retail prices for fluid milk sold in the Redwood milk marketing area.

The Redwood area includes Napa, Sonoma, Lake, Marin and parts of Mendocino and Solano counties, including the areas of Ukiah, Vallejo and Vacaville.

The department said the hearing was called in response to a petition from representatives of milk distributors in the area who stated their costs of processing and distribution had increased since the previous price adjustment in August of 1964.

The hearing will be held in the supervisors' room, Room 102A, Sonoma County administration center, 2555 Mendocino Avenue, Santa Rosa, beginning at 9 a.m.

In the canoe country of Canada, deep marshes are sometimes called hairy lakes because vegetation observed from a distance resembles hair.

Commuters Making Bus Route Success

A private commuters' bus service in Terra Linda, threatened with failure at the end of October, has been taken over by the passengers and become a resounding success.

W. F. Sorensen of Terra Linda said the chartered commute bus was abandoned by the Meadows on Oct. 31 with only 18 passengers. The 18 survivors formed their own organization, "Custom Commute Club," and with "active solicitation have been able to land the full 39 riders on a monthly basis," he announced.

"We feel our success is deserving of publicity," said Sorensen, "considering we know we are taking at least 20 cars off the congested roads."

Riders pay $30 monthly for the service, compared to Greyhound's $12.25 for a 20-ride ticket. Computed on annual basis, the Custom Commute Club rides for about $360, Greyhound passengers for around $318. "But when you consider bus riders have to take the Muni when they get to the city, and that Greyhound has requested a 7 per cent rate increase," said Sorensen, "we're very competitive."

The custom bus, chartered from a private company, picks up passengers along Freitas Parkway and at the Civic Center at 6:55 a.m., and departs San Francisco at 5 p.m.

There's already a waiting list for the Terra Linda service, said Sorensen, but the group is trying to encourage Marin commuters to start their own similar service from other localities.

Wrong Cleanser Mixing Can Result In Tragedy

Most housewives are aware of the dangers that lurk in the relative safety of the home.

Through the tragedy of others, parents have been warned to keep their pools fenced, matches and flammables tucked away out of reach of youngsters, and poisonous liquids stored in a safe cabinet.

But there are other more innocent looking household items that can turn killer, if misused.

The Presbyterian Medical Center News reports that several housewives have been the unwitting victims of a poisonous gas created by mixing together two or more commercial household cleaners.

A deadly gas may be manufactured when either ammonia or vinegar is mixed with otherwise harmless cleansers such as laundry bleaches, bleached canning powders, or some liquid detergents. When inhaled, this irritating gas can cause serious injury and possibly death.

Two housewives in New York City were stricken when they decided to add household bleach to toilet bowl cleanser. The two women—in their separate houses—added the bleach and stirred with a brush. Death came to one in a few minutes, and while the other survived, she was hospitalized for a long time.

The Medical Center News explains the process by which the deadly gas is formed: Every time a housewife mixes two or more commercial cleaners, she runs the risk of setting off a chemical reaction that will synthesize poison gas. This gas is caused whenever the sodium hypochlorite found in bleaches is mixed with ammonia or vinegar.

Sodium hypochlorite and vinegar react to produce large volumes of chlorine gas. When sodium hypochlorite is mixed with ammonia, large volumes of ammonia gas are given off. Both gases are highly toxic and potentially fatal.

Household cleaners should not be mixed with one another. Labels on all cleaning products should be read and followed carefully.

Modern science and technology will continue to bring new gadgets and packaged items to aid the housewife.

Families depend on her to exercise care and good judgment in the use of these new home-making aids.

War On Poverty, Says GOP, Will Not Be 'Whipping Boy'

WASHINGTON—The Republican leaders will have an early opportunity to show what they really mean when they say they will not use their enlarged Congressional power to dismantle the Great Society.

It will be quite a temptation to make the War on Poverty a partisan whipping boy. It is already being hounded — for opposite reasons — both by extreme left and extreme right.

It will not always be easy for Sen. Everett Dirksen and Rep. Gerald Ford to stick to their announced policy of trying to improve Johnson programs rather than trying to dismantle them. It would be a tragedy to do otherwise.

THE STAND which the majority of Republicans in Congress take with respect to the War on Poverty will be a good case study of whether the strengthenerd GOP uses its power well or not.

The anti-poverty programs and Sargent Shriver himself have been badly battered during the past year by those who think they aren't doing enough, by those who think they are doing too much, and by those who think that doing anything is bad.

Obviously you can't undertake a war on poverty and expect to satisfy all the Monday-morning quarterbacks and go very far without making some administrative mistakes.

SHRIVER'S USUALLY tight operation has unquestionably sprung some leaks and scraped a few shoals. This makes it all the more appropriate that the Republicans should scrutinize everything Mr. Shriver proposes to keep doing — with an alert eye for better administration and to be sure that the money is put to the best purposes.

That will be the minority party usefully at work.

But there are strong reasons why the GOP should think twice before aiming scattershot attacks on the work and fruitage of the anti-poverty programs:

Republican mayors and governors across the country are strong supporters of the poverty programs. They know at first hand the benefits which have already been forthcoming. They are aware that the major enterprises, like Head Start, the Neighborhood Youth Corps, Upward Bound, Community Action, the legal services, migrant and Indian programs, adult literacy, work experience, VISTA, and the Job Corps are doing good work and have touched and changed the lives of several millions of people. They want them continued.

IN A VERY fundamental sense the anti-poverty programs are taking a turn which implements one of the foremost tenets of the Republican philosophy of government: They are decentralizing Federal aid programs; they are giving large authority to city and local government; they are rewarding local initiative and expanding local participation; they are making partnership with the private sector of the economy and with private educational institutions.

The central fact of the war on poverty is that state, city, and local governments have never exercised so much authority in the allocation and administration of federally financed programs.

THEY ARE exerting so much independent initiative and discretion over the use of federal funds that some Congressmen now want to get back more say, so they can themselves allocate more funds to their own districts.

This would be a backward step. And it is certainly not Republican doctrine. It would seem to me that the Republicans ought to be eager to expand local initiative and discretion.

The closest scrutiny of the War on Poverty is certainly in order, but now that the Office of Economic Opportunity has shown effectiveness, it deserves a chance to build on its experience and maturity.

THE COMPASSION OF A HUNTING GUIDE

A Canadian hunting guide dropped everything to enable a Cleveland policeman to reach the bedside of his stricken father shortly before he died.

The policeman was deep in the Canadian woods on a bear hunt when he received news of his father's illness. He was about to give up hope of reaching his father's bedside — 1,000 miles away — in time.

Then the guide, whom he had known for only two days, offered to help. He insisted on leaving his job, his wife and his 4-year-old daughter to make a 14-hour drive. He refused any money for his services.

"I've never met a more wonderful man," the officer remarked afterwards. "If there were more people with his humanitarianism, we would have none of the problems we have today."

Those who have the love of others in their hearts can, by the power of God, reach out from practically any situation to change the world for the better.

"If we love one another, God abides in us and His love is perfected in us."
(1 John 4:12)

Let me be alert and ready at any time, Lord, to come to the aid of anyone who may need me.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Freeway Just Adds Congestion

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I had the dubious pleasure of living in Southern California for 10 years before coming to the Bay Area about three years ago.

To those who advocate a freeway to west Marin of whatever alignment, I can describe that area's experience time and again. In brief, a freeway generates more traffic than it relieves and is almost filled to capacity soon after being built.

What will happen is simply that the San Geronimo Valley will rapidly become carpeted with tract developments and the traffic situation between there and 101, not to mention the bridge, will be as bad as ever, if not worse.

What is needed is an inexpensive and efficient rapid transit or bus service even if this would require a subsidy from the county or state. For such a subsidy would cost the taxpayer less than new freeways and/or a new bridge and would make most efficient use of existing facilities with little or no disruption of existing communities. After all one bus occupies far less space than 20 automobiles.

Let's Cut Out School Taxes

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to see an iniative put on the ballot to stop all school taxes on homes in which we reside.

If you own a duplex and live in, half school taxes should be paid only on the other half.

In this way older people on a fixed income would be able to live. Schools would get more support from people. The money could come from the State so much for each child. The State could get the money from night horse racing, a lottery, tax on offshore oil or if necessary a sales tax.

Schools could save money by consolidating and having one Marin County School board. College of Marin should become part of the State Colge system.

A house should be appraised at full value, not 20 or 25 per cent. This amount plus the address should be published in the paper so you could compare your taxes with your neighbors.

If a man fixes up and improves the appearance of his home he should not have to pay more taxes. People like to be proud of their home and neighborhood but when it means higher taxes it makes you think twice before adding a new coat of paint or a picket fence.

My tax bill was $490. Of this $309 was for schools.

How To Destroy 'The Monster'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Yea Indeed: Our honorable Editor has an excellent heading for Reader Marjorie C. Kaenel's letter (Nov. 18) in which he mentions the flat opposition to the terrible monster (The Freeway), that would spoil our city.

We would say: Come let's arise, with one swat let's lay him flat. Before he does damage similar to what was done to Troy — Jerusalem — Rome —or was done by the great volcano Vesuvius.

Mussolini was an outstanding example of what happens if we blow our horn too loud. On the other hand the writer (who has passed his 93 years) has had much help, when others blew his horn—by making him known as "The Poet of the Miracle Mile," and even from far distances; have been extolled for his unusual landscape construction on the Mile. Hence he feels like answering the call to arms to destroy the MONSTER. Remember little David—alone slew the giant with a little stone, hence with such weapons as we have we will send the monster to his grave.

How To Stop The Dognapers

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The "dognaping" report by Pat Perry (Independent-Journal, Nov. 21) offers eloquent evidence that these despicable thieves have not been scared off by the recent federal animal dealer legislation.

Unfortunately, the article left the implication that any pets stolen locally would be sold to local research institutions. Actually, it is doubtful that this will occur.

According to the State Department of Public Health, there are 16 medical institutions in Northern California which use dogs and 10 which use cats. The University of California in San Francisco, one of the "laboratories" mentioned in the article, pays considerably less per animal than the prices mentioned in Perry's article by contract with non-Bay Area pounds and one reputable dealer. U.C. makes no purchases from individuals or from unknown dealers.

Nevertheless, it is a fact that "petnaping" occurs. Where are these animals sold? Usually at great distances, frequently out-of-state where they are disposed of as though they had been legitimately acquired.

Why aren't all research animals purchased directly from legitimate pounds? Certainly, if this were possible, there would be no market for stolen animals. Unfortunately, many pounds and almost all Humane Society shelters refuse to sell unwanted animals to medical institutions. Instead, these unclaimed animals are destroyed by the pound or shelter. Thus, by misguided good intentions, they create the very environment which encourages the theft of family pets.

Gas Stations Fool Customers

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The fight to lower prices has backfired at Marin County and Bay Area gas stations. When the Blue Chip stamps and games stop at the stores the prices were to come down. The wise old gas station operators stopped the trading stamps and then raised their price of gasoline. Who's kidding who? People should once again band together—lower prices or trading stamps or no patronage.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Romney Shapes His Campaign Cabinet

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Gov. George Romney is doing a lot more than just taking a "long, hard look" at seeking the Republican presidential nomination.

His disclaimer is for public consumption. It's a normal ploy at this early stage of the contest. Political insiders are fully aware that actually the Michigan leader has been thinking and working on 1968 campaign plans for some time.

His initial preparations and organizing are quite well advanced, as follows:

All but final agreement has been reached between Romney and Leonard Hall on the latter taking charge of the crucial drive for convention delegates. Hall, a veteran of presidential campaigns, was Republican National Chairman, 1953-57, under President Eisenhower, and managed Nixon's 1960 race for the White House.

ROBERT (JACK) McIntosh, who resigned last week as Romney's state commerce director, will be a right-hand assistant of Hall, working out of a Washington office that will shortly be opened as the main Romney headquarters.

Robert Price, 33-year-old mastermind of Mayor John Lindsay's smashing election, who quit as his deputy mayor last week, will be another top Hall lieutenant.

F. Clifton White, a highly effective pre-convention Goldwater organizer and later national director of the Citizens for Goldwater-Miller Committee, will devote his talents and efforts to the South and other difficult areas.

CLIFFORD FOLGER, Washington investment banker, ambassador to Belgium in the Eisenhower administration, former head of the GOP National Finance Committee, and a leading Nixon fund-raiser in 1960, will fill a similar role for Romney.

Also slated to be active in the Romney campaign are William Murphy, executive secretary of Gov. William Scranton, and James Reichley, a key adviser of the Pennsylvanian.

National Chairman Ray Bliss, master political organizer and campaign manager, was Romney's first choice to direct his drive for convention delegates.

As head of the national committee, Bliss is getting $60,000 a year and expenses. It was indicated to him that Romney was willing to pay $100,000, or even more.

BUT THE OHIOAN declined. He explained he preferred to remain at the national committee, building up a strong, forceful and well-financed party organization to capture the White House and control of Congress in 1968. Bliss stated this would take all his time and energy, and he would maintain strict neutrality in the nomination scramble.

Romney and Hall had a series of discussions over a period of several months. Still undecided between them is a press chief.

HALL FAVORS Richard Guylay, now with a New York public relations firm, who was press director when Hall headed the national committee, and in the Goldwater campaign. Romney has indicated he would prefer someone else.

Already shaping up as a major problem in the fight for convention delegates is the strong likelihood that powerful "favorite son" candidates will control the delegations of a number of key states.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Series Of Recommendations On How To Save Tax Dollars

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The California Taxpayers' Assn., and some 25 local taxpayer organizations have issued a series of recommendations which if followed, are bound to have material bearing on government adminisration with an ultimate halting of the upward trend of taxes.

One of the recommendations is for a moratorium on new government agencies and bureaucracies, and a second, a complete evaluation of all government agencies to determine if programs are being achieved.

The association desire to determine if welfare programs are carrying out the objective of rehabilitating recipients, and also, if the teacher-pupil ratio in the schools is realistic.

LOCAL AGENCIES, they say, should be stimulated and activated to achieve the maximum in streamlining of local government, and elimination of both duplication of responsibilities and of services.

The associations suggest tuition charges for students attending the University of California and the state colleges, an issue which has been controversial for some time, and opposed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Now that a new governor will replace Brown within a few weeks, there at least will be the opportunity to develop some salient facts on the amount of education the public owes to its younger citizens.

ALSO RECOMMENDED are changes in laws to require preparation of tax rolls and government budgets, so that they may be reviewed and adopted after adequate time for public hearings and prior to the start of a fiscal year. For several years, Gov. Brown's constantly increasing state budget has been adopted on the eve of the new fiscal year.

THE ASSOCIATION further recommends that state laws should be amended to remove such requirements as the mandatory formula to determine a percentage of a budget which must be spent on teacher salaries.

This requirement was lobbied into the law by the California Teachers Assn. and has been a thorn in the side of economy for some time.

Duplication should be eliminated, says the association. It points out that from school districts to city and county governments, as well as the state government, co-operation should be encouraged to use the maximum purchasing power of the taxpayers through co-operative purchase of materials and insurance.

FURTHER, SCHOOL unifications have decreased the the need for services offered by the county superintendent of schools, and therefore, the duties of this office should be reviewed.

There is a proposal that salaries, retirements and fringe benefits of public employees should be brought into line with private industry in each community, and also that the people should retain the right to decide when a long-term indebtedness is to be incurred for a public facility, thereby stopping the trend to negate this right through lease-purchase agreements.

The associations urge the use of data processing in government, but declare joint use of equipment should be encouraged in each area by multiple government agencies, rather than having each agency install its own.

Further, there should be a review of tax exemptions, and an attempt made to eliminate all of them possible, the recommendations say.

A FAMOUS SURGEON told a new group of students, "A good doctor must have from the first two gifts: Freedom from nausea and the power of observation. Now do as I do." He dipped his finger into a nauseating fluid, then licked it off. The students did the same without flinching. The surgeon chuckled and told them, "You get A for the first test, but F for Part Two. Not one of you observed that I dipped my first finger in that disgusting fluid — but licked the second."

A MENTAL patient complained so bitterly about severe stomach pains that the doctor finally decided to operate — and inside the poor fellow he found a bouquet of American Beauty roses. "Now how in heck did those flowers get in there?" he exclaimed. "Darned if I know," said the patient. "Let's look at the card and see who they're from."

Petaluma Has Excellent Idea In Spreading Some Goodwill

Last week I attended a meeting of the California Harbors and Watercraft Commission in Petaluma. At the end of the meeting, Mayor Helen Putnam of Petaluma presented each of the commission members with a box from the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce.

It contained some literature on Petaluma, its harbor, industries and business. In addition it had samples of a dip, salad dressings, cheeses and a whole-bodied frier from Petaluma.

You can wager from the surprised and happy expression on the commission members' faces that, whenever they get a chance, they will return to Petaluma for a hearing, bringing business with them.

MARIN COUNTY Chambers of Commerce could do well to copy such a friendly gesture. Marin County is not capable of handling large conventions, but it can and does get some smaller meetings. If such gestures were made at these meetings, it could draw more of them to the county in the future.

When I told someone in Novato about the idea, I received a blank look and a "what does Novato produce?" answer.

It could well get up such a gift box containing perhaps an honorary certificate or set of wings to represent Hamilton Air Force Base, a sample book from McGraw-Hill Book Co., some frozen food from Frosty Acres, eggs from some local producer, cheese from the Rouge Et Noir Cheese Co. Also a small sack of rock from the crusher, or even a dressed, smoked pheasant from the Green Rock Hunting Club.

THE NOVATO DOWNTOWN Improvement Assn. is being reactivated after a couple of years of inactivity. The impetus that brought about the reactivation was the proposed revision of the city's sign ordinance.

Many of the merchants signed a petition against certain phases of that proposed revision. They want signs that are now up, to be allowed to remain. They are opposed to restrictions on signs that project out over the sidewalk and also are opposed to the city's interfering with signs within a store such as on the windows.

Although the group should act as a force for the betterment of the community, I quizzed several merchants on their attitudes toward city government.

THERE WAS some gripping about the city's proposed new Civic Center. With business being slack, the merchants said that they could not see the city spending all that money for another site which they will not need for years.

Several said that they thought that the present Civic Center complex was adequate for many years to come. Not all merchants expressed this view. There were those who favored a large complex of city buildings for the future.

Another gripe was that the city was furnishing private cars to many of its employees. They said that the city cars should be used only for city business and not be taken home by the employees at night. One merchant said that he felt the city would do well to have a motor pool so that the cars would be checked in and out for the various city jobs by the city employees.

ONE MAN'S GRIPE was that the city was not doing enough for the merchants. He said that the city should make plans, create a special district and turn Grant Avenue into a pedestrian shopping mall. He presented a good plan except for failing to say where the city would get the money.

The State Division of Highways deserves a compliment for placing the center stripes between the islands on Highway 101. This has had the immediate effect of keeping cars on the proper side. It also should prevent those horrible situations when one goes to make a proper turn or cross the highway, only to find a car coming directly at him in his side of the space between the islands.

Conservatives Emerging From Their Post-Election Trenches

HOWEVER YOU slice it, the recent by-election was clearly a revolt against the ultra-leftism of the Great Society and a turn to the right. The Democratic governor of Indiana summed it up deftly: "Lyndon's bridge is falling down."

Small wonder conservatives have emerged from their caves and are celebrating wildly. For them it has indeed been a long time between drinks, and they are clearly entitled to whoop it up.

Fine—but here comes Cassandra.

In a magazine piece on the California campaign that appeared just before the balloting, I warned that even the indicated conservative triumph would not end the war against the monolithic statists. It could prove as important as Washington's brilliant victory at Trenton, I said, but Yorktown would still remain an eternity away.

MY EYES WERE glued on California, but I think the Reagan victory has significance for the entire country. In his corner were both liberal and conservative Republicans, who might differ on various programs but were firmly united on Reagan's prime targets: the need for the restoration of fiscal sanity, law and order, and individual responsibility as well as individual freedom — the plain common sense without which no society is viable. And in that unity lay Reagan's strength.

I am fully aware that Reagan's sweep was part of the national trend that sent many Democrats and independents flocking to the GOP standard in other states. But had there been no firm base to which to repair as an outlet for their visceral reactions, many might have seen little to vote for and Reagan's million plurality might well have shrunk to a hairsbreadth, and the result even gone the other way. Make no mistake about it, he gave them a choice.

WE WON—but don't expect instant miracles. There's still a long, long row to hoe. And let us remember that we have no right to ask the government to pull in its belt unless we're prepared to pull in our own. You don't get fiscal sanity just by voting for it—it's a two-way street.

So let's have one more for the road, if you will, but remember we're due back in the trenches. If we let our guard down now, we may be like those cocksure Hessians Washington pounced on—and what looked like Trenton may turn out to be Waterloo.

Already the signs are clear that the Juggernaut, though halted, is looking toward 1968, with the strategy of "divide and conquer," that worked so well in 1964, in mind.

So watch for booby traps, and keep your eyes peeled on Greeks bearing gifts, especially if they're pollsters. The latter may be more dangerous.

I AM, I CONFESS, somewhat allergic to pollsters. They occasionally come through with a prediction, but not more than any other fortune teller. Certainly none of them came near guessing the extent of the Reagan sweep.

During our gubernatorial primary, they all said Reagan was the choice of the GOP, but that he couldn't draw enough Democrats to win. Christopher, their figures showed, was the wise choice. How now?

And there was the Belden Poll in Texas. In a race for the Court of Criminal Appeals this year, two weeks before the Democratic primary, Belden gave Judge W. T. McDonald 52 per cent, and Judge John P. Onion 27 per cent. Onion won the primary with 53 per cent, which rather proved Belden didn't know his onions.

NEVERTHELESS, I didn't like it when, in the U. S. Senate race, Belden in August made it Waggoner Carr 49 per cent and John Tower 33 per cent. And the night before election, says the Houston Tribune, Belden's final figures were Carr 51 per cent, Tower 48.4. But Tower, praise be, wound up with more than 56 per cent of the ballots.

And now comes Lou Harris with figures broadly hinting what the GOP should do in 1968. Romney would win over LBJ by 54 to 46, whereas Nixon, Percy and Rockefeller would lose by that same percentage. As for Reagan, he would be snowed under, 67 to 33.

Maybe. But would you mind rolling up your sleeve, Mr. Harris? No, not that one, the one that shows your arm tattooed with "I love the Establishment."

I move we pick our own candidate when the time comes, fellows. And meanwhile, for Pete's sake, keep your powder dry.

AT DOMINICAN

Quarterly Conclave Planned Saturday

A second quarterly conference of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women will be hosted by the Marin County Deanery on Saturday at Dominican College, San Rafael.

"Peace in Our Day" will be the theme, with Msgr. John Tracy Ellis and the Rev. Peter Riga as the speakers. The college music department will present an original Christmas cantata dedicated to Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken.

Mrs. William Ball, president of the deanery, has announced that the conference is open to all Marin women. Chairmen for the conference are Mesdames Ernest T. Mock, chairman for the day; John Cook, reservations; Robert Pidcock, publicity, and Vern Stanford, decorations.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. at Guzman Hall, followed by the meeting and luncheon at Caleruega Hall. The oratorio will be held at Angelico Hall afterward.

Delegates will include Mesdames William Kirby, John Armstrong, Bernard J. Doyle, George Cheda, A. H. Nathe Jr., Robert Schultz, Stanton Ware, John F. Churchill, Sheila Coyne, Terence Rooney, Bernard DeBisschop, Ernest Mock, George B. Epperson, Frances Perry, Hildegarde Bettinger and Maj. Irma Staelens.

Also attending will be past presidents of Marin Deanery Mesdames Ralph Tobener and Louis Schwab.

WORKING ON Christmas angels in preparation for the conference to be hosted Saturday at Dominican College are, front, Mesdames John Cook and Robert Pidcock, and back, Mesdames Vern Stanford and Ernest Mock, who will be chairmen. (Independent-Journal photo)

Couple Marks Anniversary With A Trip To The Islands

By MOLLY MARIN

Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Rossman of Sausalito celebrated their 37th wedding anniversary by taking a trip to the Hawaiian Islands. They left on Nov. 12 and returned just in time to have Thanksgiving dinner with their son, Bruce E. Rossman of Mill Valley, and his family.

The Rossmans spent a week in Honolulu and five days touring the outer islands. In Honolulu they visited with two former Sausalito families, Russell and Vada Lewis, with whom they had breakfast, and Sam and Mary K. Balliett and their daughters, Renee and Babs, who took them out to dinner.

HOUSEGUESTS of the Archer Forsyths for a week in Mill Valley are Sir Stanton and Lady Valerie Hicks of Australia. They are en route home from a five-months tour of Europe.

IN THE LIST of escorts for the Cotillion on Dec. 23 are several with Marin ties—Three of the Livermore clan will be included — Norman B. Livermore III, who attends Dartmouth and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. Livermore Jr. of San Rafael; and brothers Thomas Banks Livermore and Richard C. Livermore, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Livermore of San Francisco. Thomas will also be an escort for Licia Hayden of Ross when she bows at the Marin Debutante Ball three nights earlier. . . . Phillip Austin Lowengart, son of Mrs. Helen Austin Lowengart of Marin and Sanford Lowengart, will escort Jean Lowe when she makes her bow at the Cotillion, and Alfred P. Otto III of Ross will serve as the escort for Eleanor Boone. He will also attend the Marin Debutante Ball as Constance Griffith's escort.

MRS. WILLIAM GANDE has returned to her home in Belvedere from a month's visit in Sydney, Australia, with her sister, Mrs. Edna Miller.

How To Write To The Servicemen In Viet Nam—All Letters Welcome

DEAR READERS:

This year's most-asked question to HHU is: "How can I write and tell those fighting men in Viet Nam that we're pulling for them?"

Finally—I have the answer, in a letter from Parl Stewart Project Coordinator, Viet Nam Mail Call, P.O. Box 3104, Columbus, Georgia, 31903. He says in part:

DEAR MRS. BOTTEL: Thank you for your letter. We are delighted to know you have readers who wish to write to servicemen.

Viet Nam Mail Call is a project of the South Columbus, Georgia, Merchants Assn., a civic club. Since it was started in 1965, we have forwarded 500,000 letters of support and appreciation to U.S. Troops in Viet Nam, and though we cannot at this time accept packages for forwarding (due to transportation shortage), we are happy to say we can get letters to the men through Company Commanders and others who will distribute them.

Please instruct your readers to write a letter, not more than two pages, enclose it in an envelope that has only the writer's name and address in the left hand corner. Leave the address space blank and do not place postage on this envelope. Then put the letter to the serviceman in a second envelope addressed to Viet Nam Mail Call, P.O. Box 3104, Columbus, Georgia, 31903. Put your return address in the left-hand corner and enclose two five-cent stamps or a dime. We do not want the stamps stuck to the letters because we place several letters in a box to mail all at once, using the stamps for the box.

If writers wish to correspond with servicemen, they should make it known in their letters. It is not guaranteed that all letters will be answered, but most will—and all will be read and appreciated. Only the first letter is mailed to Viet Nam Mail Call. After the reader receives a reply from a serviceman, she (or he) writes direct to the man. —Sincerely, Paul Stewart, Project Coordinator, SCMA.

P.S. We are not permitted to give out names or addresses of men or outfits in Viet Nam. Our project is endorsed by veterans, civic and professional organizations.

So there it is, kids, and please clip this column now!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

The last letter I sent didn't go in the paper, so please won't you print this one?

I don't know whether this boy likes me or not, but every time I look at him in school he is looking at me. I could madly like him, I think, but he won't say anything. Do you think he could like me?—SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUS:

Of course he could— if you'd learn the "Hi!" sign. For starters, how about giving him a wave and a smile, next time he gives you the eye.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am 13 and very mature. I have met a wonderful boy who is almost 14. Don't say this is infatuation or puppy love because my mother says it's true. (I'm using a dictionary for my spelling.)

We are planning a spring wedding. We don't know whether we should elope or have a church wedding. My mother has always had her heart set on one.

But you see, I have a problem. My father doesn't know about this, but he must pay for it.—L.I.W.

P.S. My mother approves, but is afraid to tell him.

You certainly do have a problem!—An overactive imagination . . . Or a stupidly overpermissive mother. I hope it's the former!—H.

Betrothal News On Thanksgiving

The engagement of Jo Ann Watson of San Rafael and Peter W. Escallier was announced to family and friends at a Thanksgiving dinner at the home of the bride-elect's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. John Hegarty of San Rafael.

Jo Ann is the daughter of Walter Watson of Oroville and the sister of Mrs. Gene Pennington of Petaluma, Barbara and David Watson and John, Michael and Steven Hegarty of San Rafael. Mr. and Mrs. George Bruce of Novato are her grandparents. Jo Ann attended San Rafael High School and Oroville Beauty College, and is employed at The Salon.

Peter is the son of Mrs. Peter Escallier of San Rafael and the late Mr. Escallier. He is a San Rafael High School graduate and is employed in San Rafael.

A June wedding is planned.

PLANNING A June wedding are Catherine Isabelle Morrell of San Anselmo and Lt. j.g. Michael Glenn. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Morrell of San Anselmo. (Tiny Tots photo)

Catherine Isabelle Morrell Engaged To Michael Glenn

Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Morrell of San Anselmo are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Isabelle, to Lt. j. g. Michael Glenn.

The bride-elect was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and is attending Sacramento State College. She is the sister of Barbara Morrell of Hollister and David Morrell of San Anselmo.

The future bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn of San Anselmo, was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College in Pennsylvania and is serving in the U.S. Navy at Mare Island. Gary and Laurie Glenn of San Anselmo are his brother and sister.

A June wedding is planned.

Mrs. Jack Wilsey Is Bride Of Edwin Burmester

Mrs. Jack Wilsey of San Rafael, widow of the late Jack Wilsey, became the bride of Edwin Burmester of San Anselmo in a ceremony on Friday at the Mokelumne Community Church in the Mother Lode country.

Mrs. Wilsey is the mother of Mrs. Duane McFadden of Great Falls, Mont., and Stephen, Robert, Hayes, Jane and Christopher Wilsey of San Rafael.

The bridegroom is associated with Dun and Bradstreet in San Francisco. He has a son, David Burmester of Sacramento.

The couple will reside in San Rafael.

Synanon Program Set By Section

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rogers of Sausalito will be hosts to the Couples Section of the Mill Valley Branch, American Assn. of University Women, on Friday at 8 p.m. The Synanon experience will be the topic of discussion.

Members of the group have visited Synanon in San Francisco or Marshall. This experience will be the basis for expressing impressions and evaluations of the Synanon program.

Lutheran Church Women Plan Yule Party, Installation

Marin Lutheran Church Women will have their Christmas party and general meeting at the church in Corte Madera on Friday at 8 p.m.

Following the business meeting, a program written and directed by Mrs. Milton Frick of Mill Valley will be presented. Newly elected officers will be installed by the Rev. Gerald Garlid. The officers are as follows: Mrs. Allen Johnson of San Rafael, president; Mrs. Dean Weibel of San Rafael, vice president; Mrs. Ralph McFadden of Belvedere, secretary; Mrs. Ralph Isham of Terra Linda, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Morettini of Corte Madera, education secretary, and Mrs. Carl Anderson of Larkspur, stewardship secretary.

Members of Mary Circle are hostesses for the evening. Members of Naomi Circle will offer handmade items for sale as Christmas gifts.

Teen Rummage Sale To Aid March Of Dimes

Marin County teen-agers will make a major contribution to the March of Dimes' fight against birth defects. Under the direction of Teen-Age Program chairman Christine Smith of Larkspur, teen-agers from all parts of the county are collecting items to be sold during a two-day rummage sale on Saturday and Sunday at the Youth Center in Mill Valley. The center will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days.

Heading the committees for the rummage sale are Dorothy Zannotti of Sleepy Hollow, Susan McKinnon of San Rafael, Bill Goldsmith of Terra Linda, Karen Arnold of Novato, Joan Lubamersky of Corte Madera, Sue Kriger of Mill Valley and Nancy Leunderview of San Anselmo.

Donations to the sale in the form of clothing and furniture are welcome and can be arranged for through Mrs. Edith Arnold or Christine Smith.

Yule Play For Tamalpais Club

The program for guest day for the Tamalpais Woman's Club on Friday will be given by Marion Hayes Cain and the Magic Circle, who will present a Christmas play entitled "When the Angels Sang."

Barbara Morissy, Brian Maxwell, Jack Jenkins and Robert Bosserman will take the roles in the Christmas story.

The executive board of the club will meet at 11 a.m., followed by the business meeting at 1 p.m. After the program at 2 o'clock, tea will be served by Mrs. Nelson Hall, assisted by the committee, Mesdames Harry Calkins, Roy Rhodes, C. Gerald Fiscus, Floyd Chapman and James Goodale.

Pouring tea will be Mrs. Lewis Deu Pree and Mrs. Gustin K. Burgren.

Mill Valley Tennis Club Lunch Set

Highlight of the Mill Valley Tennis Clubwomen's Christmas Luncheon on Dec. 13 will be a program provided by the Treble Tones.

Directed by Mrs. Fred Wells of Corte Madera, the group of singers consists of about 25 Bay Area wives and mothers. They were founded seven years ago to sing for their own enjoyment and have expanded their activities to programs for church and social organizations.

Other Marin members of the group in addition to Mrs. Wells are Mesdames Frank Hickman of Mill Valley and Lori Kaufold, Irene Petzhold and Russell Troup of San Rafael.

Mrs. Joseph Brewster is chairman for the party, which will start with cocktails at noon, before the 12:30 p.m. luncheon. Assisting her are Mesdames Vincent White, John Lennon, Robert Earl, Richard Rider, Robert Morgan, Earl Reinke, Bruce Wrisley, Robert Graver, Carl Massey, Dwight Bishop, Pieter de Vries and Robert Matson.

Newcomers Club Plans Festivities

The Novato Newcomers Club members will hold their Christmas dinner dance on Dec. 10 at Sabella's in Mill Valley.

Cocktails will be served at 8 p.m., dinner at 9:30 p.m. and dancing to follow.

Mrs. L. B. Rosenberg, chairman, and Mrs. Joseph Henderson are accepting reservations. Mrs. Douglas Joslin is decorations chairman.

Israeli, Egyptian Jets In Combat

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Israeli and Egyptian jet fighters battled 15,000 feet in the skies over Israel today and Israel reported two Egyptian MIGs downed, one of them by an air-to-air missile. Gunfire also broke out along the Israel-Jordan border.

Israel said the aerial battle lasted only two minutes. It said one Soviet-built MIG-19 was downed by a "Metra" air-to-air missile fired by an Israeli jet while another MIG-19 was downed by fire from two French-built Israeli Mirage jets. The jet struck by the missile exploded, Radio Israel said. It indicated the pilot was killed.

The Israeli government said in a communique the dogfight broke out when two Soviet-built MIG-19s tried to intercept a light Israeli reconnaissance plane three miles inside Israel.

Israel has fought border clashes with Syria and on Nov. 13 staged a punitive raid with tanks and jets into Jordan—a move which brought it censure by the United Nations Security Council.

But until today Egypt had not been involved directly in the current crisis which has threatened to explode into a new Middle East war.

DAVID WADE
Soloist in choral program

Two Choral Works Due At College

Brahms' "A German Requiem" and Pergolesi's "Magnificat" will be performed by the Combined College of Marin Community Chorus and A Capella Chorus at 8 p.m. Sunday in the college gymnasium.

Baritone David Wade and soprano Sylvia Davis will be the soloists. The organist will be Arthur Hills. Dr. S. Drummond Wolff will conduct the 200-voice combined choruses.

Brahms' "A German Requiem," one of the great choral works of the Romantic period, is not a setting of the usual liturgical requiem text, but instead uses portions of the Old and New Testament of the German Bible, which the composer selected.

'Oh Dad' Will Play For Benicia Audience

"Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mama's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad," the Terra Linda Little Theater production which has its final marin performances Friday and Saturday at the Church in Ignacio, will be presented in Benicia the following weekend.

Lou Mason, president of the Terra Linda group, said the play was requested by the Benicia Old Town Group for performances at the Benicia Old Town Theater on Dec. 9 and 10.

Another Two Enter Contest

Two more girls have entered the Junior Miss contest sponsored by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce, chairman James Pelmulder announced today.

This makes 10 entries for the contest which will be held at 8 p.m., Dec. 10, at the Novato Community House. The local winner will enter the state contest in January in Garden Grove.

Latest entries are Carolyn Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark of 26 Carmel Drive, and Shari Garl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Garl of 853 Tamalpais Avenue, both Novato.

Sewer Replacement Bid Opening Slated

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors last night called for bids to replace 60 feet of 10-inch pipe under Shoreline Highway near Richardson Bay Bridge. Cost of the work was estimated at $5,000.

Bids will be opened at the next board meeting, Dec. 27 at 8 p.m. at City Hall, one day later than usual because of the Christmas holiday.

Strawberry Art Winners Announced

Marion Oliver of Tiburon won first prize for art best typifying the spirit of UNICEF during the Artist's and Draftsmen's Show held during the weekend at Strawberry Town and Country Village.

Runner-up was an oil painting by Sausalito artist Stella Popowski. Third prize went to George Bertucelli of San Francisco for a collage.

An oil painting by Robert L. Foster of Richmond took the best in show award.

Counselor's Face Slashed In Struggle

A senior counselor at Marin County Juvenile Hall was cut on his face and wrists in a brief but wild melee with a 16-year-old inmate Sunday night, sheriff's officers disclosed today.

The victim, Donald K. Quayle, was treated at Marin General Hospital, receiving four stitches for a left cheek cut and two stitches for the wrist injury.

Deputies said the affray began when the youth, from San Anselmo and scheduled to be returned yesterday to California Youth Authority for car theft, grabbed a chair in the hall's television room and began breaking windows and furniture.

According to Walter Busher, county probation officer, Quayle and other counselors attempted to calm the youth.

The 16-year-old armed himself with a broken piece of glass and slashed Quayle with it, Busher said.

After being subdued, the youth was placed in the county jail overnight, then turned over to the youth authority.

Busher said he could give no estimate of the amount of damage to the hall.

When Iowa's state capital was moved from Iowa City in 1855 the state buildings were given to Iowa State University.

New, Ominous Report On Smoking, Health

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new and more ominous report in effect extending the government's contention that cigarette smoking imperils health — this time from the standpoint of increased death rates — was issued today by the U.S. Public Health Service.

The report attacks the subject from a somewhat different angle than the famed surgeon general's report of 1964. That report blasted cigarette smoking as the major cause of lung cancer, and said it was either a direct cause of or closely associated with a number of other death-dealing ills.

The new report includes an analysis of death rates compiled from the records of every state health office in the country for the period 1950-1964—and deals specifically with "mortality from diseases associated with smoking."

A spokesman for the Tobacco Institute, trade organization of the major tobacco manufacturers, said the institute had no comment to make on the new report.

Among the major findings of the report, prepared by the health service's National Center for Health Statistics:

1. Rises in death rates from lung cancer and emphysema — the latter already rated by the health service as "the fastest growing crippler disease in the United States" — were "of unprecedented proportions for noncommunicable diseases" during the period studied.

2. Mortality from chronic bronchitis nearly doubled during the period.

3. There were "substantial increases" during 1950-1964 in mortality from three of the eight groups of diseases which the surgeon general's report had said were "associated with but not clearly causally related to smoking."

These three were:

Arteriosclerotic heart disease," including coronary disease, especially in the male population."

Cirrhosis of the liver—"with the most marked increase for the nonwhite population."

Emphysema—"especially for the white male population"

Arts Palace May Become College Site

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mayor John F. Shelley today was considering a proposal to transfer the rebuilt Palace of Fine Arts to the state college system.

If the plan is approved, the colleges will finance the construction of interior facilities to transform the Marina landmark into an academy of performing arts.

Originally built for the Pan-American Exposition in 1915, the building is now undergoing a $6.8 million restoration financed by gifts and a bond issue.

The plan has received the support of Elvin Stendell, president of the Recreation and Park Commission. The college system has a committee studying the idea.

As an academy of performing arts, the building would be used to train youngsters age 6 and older in music, dance, and theater arts.

80-Year-Old Artist Still Going Strong

At 80, Cornelia Chase of Sausalito remains one of Marin County's most active artists.

Currently she is exhibiting sculptures and medallions of juniper wood at Vagabond House, Sausalito. On Dec. 7, she plans a sale of wooden neck pieces at Sausalito Boutique.

Play's Run Extended

Tamalpais Valley Players' production of "Thurber Carnival" has been extended to a fourth weekend Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at Mill Valley Golf Clubhouse. Wine and coffee are served during the performance.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

9:25 a.m., Kentfield—Smoke in attic of Nathalie T. Finkle home, 16 Wolfe Canyon Road, from faulty fire box under fire place; no damage.

11:40 a.m., Belvedere—Short circuit in electric blanket started fire which caused an estimated $200 damage to bed at home of Edward Brash, 6 Leeward Road.

12:52 p.m., Novato — Power failure slowed down and shorted an electric motor setting fire to a filter in the furnace at home of Ronald Mattos, 745 Sun Lane; minor smoke damage throughout house.

2:49 p.m., San Rafael—False alarm from box at Fifth Avenue and A Street.

6:35 p.m., Kentfield—Lounge chair at Sans Souci Rest Home, 1109 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, caught fire probably from cigarette; damage estimated at $200.

7:58 p.m., San Rafael—Second false alarm from box at Fifth Avenue and A Street.

11:45 p.m., San Geronimo—Car driven by John Tanzi of Lagunitas caught fire at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near San Geronimo intersection; probably caused by short circuit; damage estimated at $500.

GOOD SCOUT — Maj. Gen. Norman B. Edwards, chief of staff of the Sixth Army, will be guest speaker at the Boy Scouts' Redwood District annual recognition dinner at 7 p.m. today at Scout Hall in San Rafael. General Edwards coordinated Boy Scout activities in the Republic of South Korea from 1962 to 1964.

Sneak Preview Film

The senior class at Tamalpais High School will sponsor a sneak preview of a new Hollywood feature next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Sequoia Theater in Mill Valley. Proceeds will go to the senior ball.

Tiburon Council Dissolves Two Lighting Districts

The Tiburon City Council dissolved two special districts, taking into the city the Belveron lighting district and withdrawing all territory within the city from the larger Tiburon lighting district.

Another lighting district was discussed in jest when Councilman Branwell D. Fanning suggested the city form the world's smallest lighting district and show a profit. The remark came after Mayor John S. Hoffmire Jr. was authorized to sign an agreement with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for lighting of a public telephone booth on Tiburon Boulevard.

The Tiburon City Council also:

1. Approved a street maintenance budget of $13,150 from gasoline tax funds.

2. Ordered a stop sign on the westbound lane of Centro West Street at Esperanza. Sheriff's Lt. George R. Barnes and traffic engineer Ray Foreaker recommended the sign.

3. Granted City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose authorization to transfer funds within the budget without bringing each transfer separately before the council.

4. Adopted Rose's recommendation to support the county services district for police protection and ask the County-City Services Committee for further study on the possibility of ultimate countywide consolidation of services.

5. Approved an additional appropriation to continue administrative assistant Michael Silberstein's salary to the end of the fiscal year at $3.50 per hour. His original allocation had expired.

6. Granted a request of Louis Brunini, superintendent of public works, for rental of a radio for a dump truck to arrive soon.

7. Asked the committee on public services to draft a policy on street lights.

Former White House Folk Gather; Exchange Memories

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some folks who lived in the White House gathered there again and talked about it all.

They remembered:

Live bats living in a second-floor chandelier, said President Benjamin Harrison's granddaughter, Marthena Harrison Williams.

A roughhouse one Christmas that left all the Franklin D. Roosevelt sons bruised throughout the holidays, recalled Miami Beach Mayor Elliott Roosevelt, one of those five sons.

The christening of granddaughter Mary Jean in the Blue Room was the "very happy time" remembered by Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower.

And 90-year-old Madame Julia Cantacuzene, granddaughter of Ulysses S. Grant, said she was not only born in the White House, christened in the East Room, but "received in the Blue Room — in my nurse's arms."

It was all part of a homecoming party staged Monday afternoon by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson to launch a new book out today — "The Living White House" — which she said provides revealing glimpses of the lives and times of the 34 families who occupied the White House since 1800.

Mrs. Johnson invited offspring and descendants of the former presidents. Some couldn't come. Rain kept others away. But there were 14 representatives of the presidential families of Grover Cleveland, U. S. Grant, William H. Taft, Benjamin Harrison, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower on hand among 250 guests for the festivities in the state rooms.

The Eisenhowers were the largest contingent. There was former First Lady Mamie, daughter-in-law, Mrs. John S. Eisenhower and three granddaughters, Barbara Anne, 17, Susan, 14, and Mary Jean, 10.

The age span of the presidential guests was from 10 to 90.

The nostalgic stories ranged from snowball fights to the bivouacking of Civil War Union troops on the parquet floors of the East Room, where Abigail Adams, the first occupant, once hung out her family wash.

Mrs. Johnson received the first copy of the new book from Melville Bell Grosvenor, editor of the National Geographic, which published it as a public service.

Arraignment Held On Joy-Riding

John Vincent Gallagher, 19, of San Francisco, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of joy-riding and is to enter plea at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Gallagher was arrested by San Rafael police Saturday while driving a pickup truck owned by D and S Garage, San Rafael.

Citizens Due Brief Break On Tax Filing Next April

WASHINGTON (AP) — The taxpayer who waits until the last minute to file his yearly income tax return will get a two-day bonus next spring — the filing deadline has been extended to April 17.

And the Internal Revenue Service said it should be easier for the more than 65 million individual taxpayers to complete their returns next year because the few changes made in the tax form should simplify matters, not complicate them.

The two-day filing bonus results because the normal April 15 deadline falls on a Saturday. In such cases, IRS usually gives taxpayers until the next business day to submit returns.

For the first time since it began data processing operations in 1962, IRS will send every tax return through a complete computer check. Only about half the individual returns got the full treatment this year.

This means a check not only of arithmetic, but also comparisons of each return with data on dividends and interest sent to the government by a taxpayer's bank, savings and loan association or corporation.

The computers also are programmed to shunt aside any return on which a deduction seems out of line. These then are checked by IRS personnel.

A new table has been added to the new instruction sheet to help taxpayers figure their deduction for state gasoline taxes. It is based on the approximate mileage covered in a year and the amount of a state's gasoline tax.

Youngsters Score High In Reading

Johnny definitely can read in the Kentfield School District. The Kentfield School District trustees learned last night that the district's first and second graders scored above both state and national average on Stanford reading tests given in June.

The average for the nation for first graders was 1.9, or first grade, ninth month, when the test was given. Kentfield first graders averaged 2.1 or two months ahead of the national average. California first graders as a whole averaged only 1.6, or three months behind.

Kentfield second graders did even better, scoring an average of 3.5 or equal to fifth month of third grade on the national scores. California second graders as a whole lagged two months behind the national average.

About 90 persons attended last night's meeting for a demonstration by teachers Esther Johnson and Doris Chavez, of the teaching of Spanish.

The board agreed to a Kentfield Teachers Assn. request that the board adopt a 1967-68 salary schedule for teachers before spring vacation.

Razor Slashes Fatal To Quentin Convict

A 41-year-old San Quentin Prison convict, with an excellent record and a date for release on parole next year, bled to death in a segregation cell after slashing his arms and neck with a safety razor last night.

The dead man was Leonard Skaggs, also known as Kenneth Michael Skaggs, who was serving a life term for first degree murder in the 1957 shooting death of his wife.

His death puzzled prison officials. Associate Warden James W. L. Park said he may have been depressed by problems which would come with his parole, set for June 17.

Skaggs went to prison officials Friday and asked to be placed alone in a segregation cell, saying other convicts were harrassing him about the fact that he murdered his wife, Park said.

He shot his wife to death in a Los Angeles cafe after accusing her of failing to care for their five children, Park said. He had no prior criminal record.

Park said prison officials guessed that he was "concerned about problems of parole." The prison's segregation committee was to have met with Skaggs today.

Skaggs is survived by his four children and one step-child, all of Dekalb, Ill.

Faculty Pay Hikes Studied

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The State Coordinating Council for Higher Education today is considering staff recommendations for state college and university faculty pay raises ranging up to 13 per cent.

The staff report said that state institutions are having trouble recruiting and retaining qualified instructors. It said that state college salaries are 8.5 per cent less than those expected to be paid at comparable institutions throughout the nation next year.

The report proposed a flat 13.5 per cent raise for state college faculty members and one of 11.3 to 13 per cent for their university colleagues.

Island To Be Free Tonight

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP)—The tiny West Indies island of Barbados achieves its independence at midnight tonight, becoming the Western Hemisphere's smallest nation with only 166 square miles of land.

Most of the 400 official guests, including a U.S. delegation headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, arrived Monday to help the islanders celebrate when the British Union Jack is replaced by the new royal blue and gold flag.

Barbados—with a population of 245,000—will be the fourth British Caribbean colony to become an independent member of the Commonwealth. The others are Jamaica, Trinidad-Tobago and Guyana.

Dodgers Announce Wills For Trade

By MIKE RATHET

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers said today they have placed shortstop Maury Wills in the trade mart partly — if not primarily — because he left the club during a tour of Japan.

"I don't know yet whether Wills will be traded," said Buzzie Bavasi, the Dodgers' general manager, "but if anybody makes a reasonable offer then, of course, Wills would be one of the first we would trade."

Asked if Wills' failure to remain with the Dodgers during the recently completed exhibition tour of Japan had anything to do with the decision, Bavasi said:

"It's partly due to what Wills did."

What Wills did was leave the Dodgers early in the tour after being refused permission to do so by Walter O'Malley, the Dodgers' president. However, Wills said he needed medical attention for his right knee.

It was believed at the time that O'Malley publicly denied Wills permission to leave in order to appease Japanese feelings, already somewhat damaged over the failure of Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale to make the trip. That apparently was not the case.

In discussing Wills and the Dodgers' decision, Bavasi said he had spoken with O'Malley last night and they had decided to make Wills available.

Bavasi revealed that he already had told three clubs that Wills was available— the New York Yankees, Minnesota Twins and Atlanta Braves.

If the Dodgers' did unload Wills, they would lose their second major attraction within a month and would wind up going into the 1967 season without two of their top three attendance draws.

Koufax has announced his retirement and if Wills were to be traded that would leave only Drysdale as a major turnstile-clicker.

Wills took over the No. 2 spot, behind Koufax, as a gate attraction during the 1962 season when he stole 104 bases. But last season, hampered by his leg injury, the 34-year-old shortstop stole only 38 bases and was caught stealing 24 times.

Of the three teams Bavasi said he had talked to the Yankees and Twins would seem to be the primary targets.

The Yankees have been without a regular shortstop since Tony Kubek retired. They have been talking about rookie Bobby Murcer holding down the job.

Giants Ready To Wheel And Deal

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—Now that the major league draft has ended, the San Francisco Giants plan to start some limited wheeling and dealing today at baseball's annual winter meeting.

"Talks with other clubs about trades or purchases was slow but should gain momentum now that the minor league draft is over," said Giants manager Herman Franks yesterday.

Left-handed hitting Bill Sorrell was the only player drafted by the Giants. An outfielder and third baseman, Sorrell hit 20 homers and drove in 80 runs third baseman, Sorrell hit 20 homers and drove in 80 runs last season while batting .264 for the San Diego Padres, a Pacific Coast League farm of Philadelphia.

The 25-year-old Sorrell cost the Giants $25,000. They sent veteran utility man Ossie Virgil to Phoenix of the PCL to make room for Sorrell.

Sorrell wasn't the only Phillie property acquired by the Giants. They also came up with Peanuts Lowrey, a coach at Philadelphia since 1960. He'll join Charley Fox, Cookie Lavagetto and Larry Jansen on the coaching staff, perhaps replacing Fox in the third-base coach's box.

Shortstop Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers and outfielder Roger Maris of the New York Yankees were the names most prominently mentioned as possible Giants for 1967.

Pittsburgh shortstop and third baseman Jose Pagan also was rumored headed for San Francisco. He was traded to the Pirates by the Giants two years ago for Dick Schofield.

"We haven't even talked to Los Angeles about Maury and for two reasons," said Franks. "First, we don't think the Dodgers would want to strengthen us. And, second, if they do deal him, it's almost certain he would go to an American League club."

The Giants, who finished 1½ games behind first-place Los Angeles last season, were rumored ready to part with outfielder Jesus Alou. Also mentioned as trade-bait were outfielder Frank Johnson and pitcher Ron Herbel. Right-handed pitcher Bob Garibaldi, a $130,000 bonus player for the Giants, cleared the draft unclaimed for the second straight year. After getting his bonus, Garibaldi suffered an arm injury that almost ended his career.

The Voice And The Stat Tie For I-J Crystal Ball Honor

THE STALE MATES—The Independent-Journal Writers' Fearless, Peerless Pigskin Prognostications Derby ended over the weekend and after the final results were tabulated we discovered to our horror that "The Voice" and "The Statistic" ended in a flat-footed tie.

The former is Bob Dinsmore, the athletic tonsils of Radio KTIM; the latter is Bob Alvarado, our statistician for all high school sports events.

After 126 games spread over more than two months of bitter competition, The Voice and The Stat each had 78 correct prognostications and 48 wrong for a .619 batting average.

ACTUALLY, IT was a three-way tie if you want to count old Charley Consensus. He also finished at 78-48, but so far he hasn't stepped forward to claim his honors. If any of you see Mr. Consensus, tell him the good news, will you?

I finished in the runner-up spot with 77-49 record and it's lucky for the co-champs that the season ended when it did. One more week and I would have captured the title I so richly deserve.

EARLY PACE-SETTER Gary Tischler slumped to a fourth place finish with a 76-50 mark, followed by Rob Harvey with 70-56 and Ralph Chatoian at 65-61.

The co-champions would not divulge the secrets to their success, but Chatoian readily admitted his modus operandi: "I just flipped a coin for every game," he said sheepishly with head held low and tail between his legs, to coin a phrase. Which may explain his horrible record.

Since defending champion Alvarado finished on top for the second straight year, there were cries of "Break Up Alvarado" around the office. But as he is also the biggest man on the staff, no one carried out the threat.

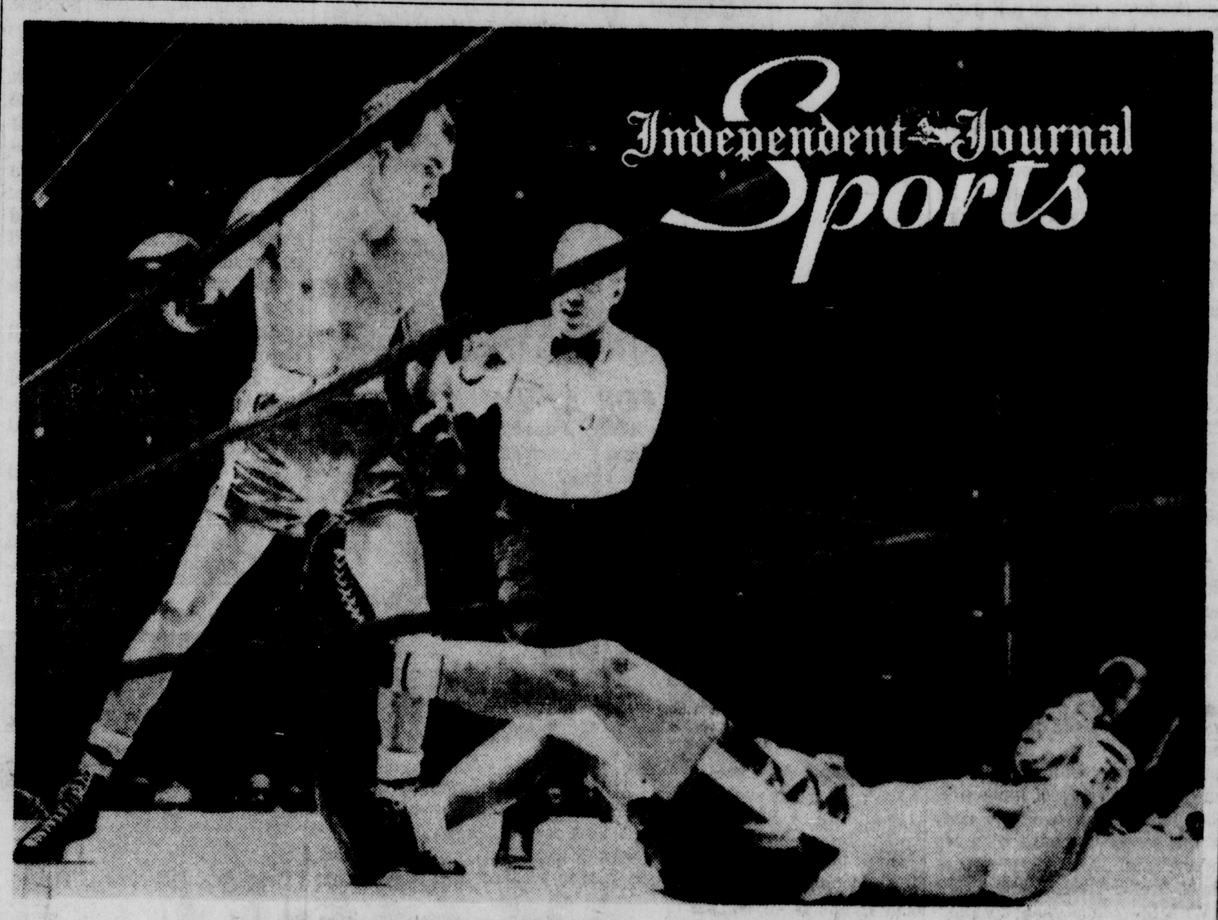
IN FACT, none of us was courageous enough to needle him about his choice of USC over Notre Dame last weekend. I certainly wouldn't remind him of it. Imagine, our champion picking USC over Notre Dame!

If you followed our weekly predictions you may have been baffled by some of the "special" games we selected—teams like St. Olaf's, Slippery Rock, Ursinus, Muskingum, Upsala, Haverford, Augustana, Beloit and others.

IT WAS just my diabolical way of keeping the staffers on their toes. Everyone knows about Cal, Stanford, Michigan State, Notre Dame, 49ers, Raiders, etc., but it takes considerable research to predict the outcome of a game like Albright vs. Drexel Tech, for example.

It was a lot of fun and we hope you enjoyed the Peerless Prognostications. How many of you played the game along with us? If anyone had a record better than our champs' 78-48, please let us know.

LAUGH OF THE WEEK: The Pacific Eight Conference came out with its final football statistics this morning and announced that USC was the best defensive team in the conference. (Notre Dame papers, please copy.)



OH, MY LORDY, ELORDE!

Challenger Flash Elorde was not the fastest man in the world last night as he lies dazedly on the canvas after being knocked out by the world's lightweight boxing champion Carlos Ortiz in the 14th round of their title bout at New York Madison Square Garden as referee Jimmy Devlin moves in. Fullmer Wins Dull Bout

By JACK STEVENSON

OAKLAND (AP) — Ageless Bobo Olson describes Don Fullmer as "a tough man to fight . . . Either he ties you up or he's not there."

Fullmer, who now hopes to box for either the middleweight or light heavyweight title, beat Olson in a battle of in-fighters at the inaugural card last night at Oakland's new Coliseum Arena.

The crowd of 10,373 which had just witnessed a slam-bang middleweight fight when Andy Heilman of San Pedro, whipped San Francisco's Jimmy Lester, wasn't too pleased with the Fullmer-Olson action.

There were frequent boos and the 27-year-old Fullmer took them philosophically, saying, "People pay their money and they have a right to do what they want."

"It wasn't a classy, standout fight. More body punches and in fighting. Our styles made it a rough, tough fight," he added.

The program proved a boxoffice success with a gross of $45,117.

Fullmer said he hopes to meet either the winner of the Emile Griffith-Joey Archer fight for the middleweight title or battle Jose Torres for the light-heavyweight crown.

The younger brother of exchamp Gen Fullmer is rated the No. 2 contender in the 160-pound division by the World Boxing Assn. He came in at 168 to fight 175-pound Olson who at 38 still holds the No. 5 challenger's ranking in the light heavy class.

"I can see where Torres and Griffith had a tough time with Fullmer," Olson told newsmen. "I guess you can call him a very smart fighter. He ties you up so well you can't do anything. I caught him a couple of good punches but the idea is to follow up and I couldn't do it."

Referee Frank Carter scored it 5-2 for Fullmer and Judge Elmer Costa saw it 6-2 for the West Jordan, Utah, battler. Judge Vern Bybee saw it even at four points each. There was no knockdown and although each suffered cuts, there was little serious damage.

Far from figuring himself through, Olson hopes to make a visit to Europe in the near future to meet top 175-pounders there including Italy's Piero Del Papa.

Heilman, 159, hammered a clear cut verdict over Lester but nearly went down in the sixth round. He had decked the San Francisco slugger for a count of seven in the previous stanza. Lester then caught him with a right hand and landed several more of his best shots before the 24-year-old from Southern California again took command.

Heilman's record went to 27-2-2 while Lester lost his third in 25 fights.

Mando Ramos, the undefeated lightweight from Long Beach, scored a fourth round knockout over Al Franklin, 134½ of Minneapolis. Ramos, only 18, weighed 133 and scored his 11th KO in 14 fights.

He took some solid left hooks and his nose bled, but Ramos pounded Franklin solidly with combinatins to head and body. The accumulation of punches climaxed by a left-right to the midsection, put Franklin down for the full count.

'SUPER BOWL' SLATED FOR L.A.?

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Coliseum and Sunday Jan. 15 are the likely site and date of the Super Bowl football game between the champions of the National and American Football leagues.

If the Pro Bowl game between all-star teams of the NFL's two conferences can be shifted from Jan. 15 to Jan. 22 the two pro leagues are expected to move their first big game into the vast Coliseum where the Rams play their home games.

No decision has been made.

The Coliseum, Miami's Orange Bowl, New Orleans' Sugar Bowl and Houston's Astrodome are being considered, according to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

A joint committee from the two leagues, with Commissioner Rozelle as chairman, is making its recommendations to the two leagues at separate meetings. A definite announcement is expected before the two pro leagues end their meetings tomorrow or Thursday.

Of primary importance to the members of the NFL is a discussion of realignment. With New Orleans becoming the 16th team in 1967, the league will have 16 teams. They will be split into the same two Eastern and Western Conferences, with the West choosing between New Orleans and Atlanta as its eighth member. Baltimore would still remain in the West and St. Louis in the East.

Each conference will, in turn, be split into two four-club divisions. The make-up of those divisions is causing considerable discussion. Among the factors to be considered are weather, baseball park conflicts, traditional rivalries, geography, season ticket sale and business success and competitive aspects (strong or weak teams).

Rozelle said he hoped the make-up of the two conferences will be formalized soon. He said each team in a division will play exactly the same opponents in a 14-game schedule. In addition to home and home series with the three other teams in its own division, the team would play each of the teams in the other division and four from the other conference.

Rozelle said there has been discussion of changing the date of the AFL game, now set for Monday, Dec. 26 in the home park of the Eastern winner.

"It probably would be better if both title games were played the same weekend," he said.

The NFL game is set for Sunday, Jan. 1 in the Eastern Conference winner's park.

Michigan State 2nd; Bruins 5th

It's Notre Dame by a more solid first-place margin over Michigan State while Alabama is a stronger third in the Associated Press' next-to-last major college football poll of the 1966 season.

The Fighting Irish moved in front by 34 points this week after finishing their season with a smashing 51-0 conquest of Rose Bowl-bound Southern California.

Notre Dame led the second-ranked Spartans by only three points a week ago after the teams battled to a 10-10 tie in Michigan State's final game. The No. 1 and No. 2 teams each finished with a 9-0-1 record.

Alabama, the defending national champion and the only major team with an unbeaten-untied record, trails Notre Dame by 78 points and Michigan State by 44. A week ago, the Crimson Tide was 89 points behind the Irish and 86 behind the Spartans.

The Tide rolled over Southern Mississippi 34-0 for their ninth victory last Saturday. The final poll will be taken next week after Alabama completes its regular season by playing Auburnat Birmingham, Ala., this Saturday.

In the latest balloting by a national panel of 52 sports writers and broadcasters, Notre Dame collected 505 points while Michigan State had 471 and Alabama 427.

The Irish were given sole possession of first place by 35 voters while five others put them in a tie for the top spot with Michigan State. The Spartans were given undisputed top ranking by only five voters.

SCORING METHOD

Each team received 10 points on a tie ballot with the rest of the points distributed on the regular basis of 9 for a second place vote, 8 for third 7 for fourth etc. Two selectors placed Notre Dame and Michigan State in a second-place tie while making Alabama No. 1.

In all, Notre Dame received 40 votes for first place, nine for second and three for third. Michigan State drew 10 first-place votes, 36 for second place, five for third and one for fourth.

Alabama collected seven votes for the top position, three for second, 37 for third, four for fourth, and one for fifth.

Georgia, UCLA, Nebraska, Purdue, Georgia Tech, Miami of Florida and Southern Methodist complete the Top Ten in that order.

Georgia advanced three places to fourth after downing previously unbeaten Georgia the Engineers from fifth to eighth.

UCLA FIFTH

UCLA, which completed its season Nov. 19 by defeating Southern California, advanced one place to fifth. Nebraska's 10-9 setback by Oklahoma, its first of the campaign, dropped the Cornhuskers from fourth to sixth place.

Purdue, idle last week, climbed one notch to seventh.

Miami of Florida and Southern Methodist are the new teams in the rankings, replacing Florida and Southern California. Miami downed Florida 21-16 and Southern Methodist, the Southwest Conference titleholder, blanked Texas Christian 21-0.

Alabama won the championship last season when it defeated Nebraska in the Orange Bowl and Michigan State lost to UCLA in the Rose Bowl. Two years ago, the Crimson Tide won when Notre Dame was tied by Southern California in its final game.

Alabama takes on Nebraska in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 2. Notre Dame and Michigan State, though, will not play in any of the post-season games.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses, season records and total points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Notre Dame (40)	9-0-1	505
2. Michigan State (10)	9-0-1	471
3. Alabama (7)	9-0-0	427
4. Georgia	9-1-0	336
5. UCLA	9-1-0	286
6. Nebraska	9-1-0	203
7. Purdue	8-2-0	194
8. Georgia Tech	9-1-0	159
9. Miami, Fla.	7-2-1	62
10. Southern Methodist	8-2-0	45

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Arkansas, Army, Colorado State U., Florida, Houston, Miami of Ohio, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Oregon State, Southern California, Syracuse, Tennessee, Virginia Tech, Wyoming.

UPI Crowns Notre Dame Nat'l Champ

NEW YORK (UPI) —The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, temporarily dislodged from first place by Michigan State, today reached college football's highest plateau when they were crowned 1966 national champions by the United Press International Board of Coaches.

The Irish, recording a 51-0 rout of Southern California last Saturday that undoubtedly impressed the 35-member panel of coaches, drew 329 points —five more than Michigan State —to win their first national title in the closest ratings race ever contested.

Notre Dame, whose 10-10 tie with the Spartans Nov. 19 cost it the No. 1 ranking and sent Michigan State to the top three points ahead last week, collected 20 first-place votes to Michigan State's 10. The Spartans, however, received strong support in second-place ballots, outvoting the Irish 24 to 10. the Spartans drew one third-place ballot, while Notre Dame received four thirds and one fourth.

The United Press International final 1966 major college football ratings with first-place votes and won-lost-tied records in parentheses:

Novato Mat Team Wins

The Novato Hornets wrestling team rolled to its third straight dual meet victory yesterday, swamping Vallejo, 44-12, behind six falls on the losers mat.

Ken Donaldsen, 103-pound standout, paced the victory by racking up his third fall in as many matches.

The Hornets had four falls in a 33-20 victory over usually strong Los Lomas at Los Lomas last week.

Winners against Vallejo were: 95 pounds, Jess Wilson, 8-3 decision; 103 pounds, Ken Donaldsen, fall; 112 pounds Rod Hull, fall; 120 pounds, Steve Collins, fall; 127 pounds Bruce Scheibein, 11-8 decision; 133 pounds Bob McGowan, 10-6 decision; 138 pounds Phil Grabitt, fall; 145 pounds Bruce Lam, fall; 165 pounds Bob Naugle, fall; 191 pounds, Greg Saffores, fall.

Notre Dame A Fine Broth Of Bullies

Well, USC will show up in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day, all right. But first, we'll have to put 'em in a sack for you.

It may take a while to find all the pieces. When Notre Dame got through with them, they looked like a watch that had been dropped from the Empire State Building.

The last time I saw anything that one-sided, one of the parties was blindfolded.

This Notre Dame team can't play in states that ban capital punishment.

USC made lots of mistakes, not the least of which was showing up. To show you how bad things were, its mascot quit in the third quarter.

THE TROUBLE with this USC team is that only nine of them are ineligible for the Rose Bowl game. About 44 were ineligibile for the Notre Dame game.

Notre Dame, which used to win for the old Gipper, is now winning one for the old United Press.

OF COURSE, this Notre Dame team showed you can't tie 'em all. The team that was looking under the bed and pulling the sheets over its head against Michigan State last week was hollering, "Let me at 'em!" against USC. They reminded me of a guy who had a bad day at the office, losing a sale and getting passed over for a promotion, going home and kicking the dog. They're good, game winners.

ARA PARSEGHIAN, who who wouldn't pass with the score tied and a minute to play last week, was passing with the score 44-0 Saturday.

USC scored a moral victory in holding the Irish scoreless during halftime, but I would say Notre Dame scored an immoral victory in not holding USC scoreless in the last three minutes. Parseghian put his scrubs in the minute he saw the timekeeper reaching for his gun.

Of course, the Trojans—who won the Rose Bowl bid even though they had to be revived to be told—had spent all week being told how bad they were till they vowed to do something about it. They did. They confirmed it.

ON THE basis of a 14-7 defeat last week, they were voted to go to the Rose Bowl. On the basis of this defeat, the conference will probably order them directly to the Hall of Fame.

Of course, this wasn't the most lopsided contest I've ever seen. Russia vs. Finland was. This one is no worse than seventh, though.

IT DIDN'T look as if they were playing the same game. Trojan halfbacks looked like four guys learning to ice skate. They went after Notre Dame ball-carriers like a guy applying for a loan—without collateral.

It was announced before the game that USC had just contracted to play Notre Dame for 10 more years—which will be bad news to the Coliseum scoreboard. The only thing USC outscored Notre Dame was only in penalties. It got four to Notre Dame's one. Penalizing USC in this game for little things like pulling face masks is a little like hauling Poland before the World Court for putting out rat poison in advance of the invading Nazis.

WORD HAS it that Rose Bowl rival Purdue sent a post-game wire to USC: "Are you still there?" Ten more minutes and all you would see would be a mushroom.

THERE ARE some who now fear USC will show up in the Rose Bowl swell-headed. And that's not the only place they will have swelling. Some are afraid they won't show up in the Rose Bowl now. Even more are afraid they will. Purdue is said to be checking Humane Society to see whether the game is even allowable.

THE LEGEND of Notre Dame was started by a bald-headed, broken-nosed old codger — a high school dropout — who wouldn't beat you, 51-0, if he caught you robbing the poor box. And he wouldn't let you get away with a 10-10 tie while he still had the football if the end zone was mined.

KNUTE ROCKNE and George Gipp, a high-school dropout and a high-school kickout, set the "tone" for this institution which, essentially, only called for kicking a man when he was up. And for kicking back as long as you were up. You invoked the dead, you didn't kick them.

THIS TEAM is a fine broth of bully-boys who may be first in the hearts of UPI and whatever other collection of meaningless ballots you can collect. But at 51-0 (USC) and 64-0 (Duke) and 40-0 (Pittsburgh) you have to feel this isn't what the old Gipper had in mind at all. Gassing canaries is not an intercollegiate sport. Neither is taking the gas when it turns out to be an eagle.

When you call Notre Dame, you get a tape recording of Ara. I think Ara ought to call Notre Dame and get a tape recording of Rockne.

Pacific Rated Second Best In West

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Following the lead of the national polls, the Northern California Basketball Writers voted UCLA the team most likely to succeed in the Pacific-8 and indicated University of the Pacific might be second best in the West.

Those two clubs don't meet during the regular season so any showdown must come in NCAA regional competition.

UCLA won a unanimous ballot to win its conference title with 7-foot-1 Lew Alcindor in his first varsity season. UOP likewise was a unanimous choice to win the West Coast Athletic Conference title which it captured last season.

"We are improved," UOP Coach Dick Edwards told the writers. "I think we'll be a better ball club by virtue of experience and we'll probably have a better bench."

Edwards plans a starting team of veterans with Keith Swagerty at center, Bob Krulich and Ron Selin at forwards, David Fox and Bruce Parsons at guards.

Trailing UOP in the writers' vote were Santa Clara, Loyola, University of San Francisco, Pepperdine, St. Mary's, San Jose State and the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Behind UCLA in the Pacific-8 came Washington State, Southern California, Oregon State, Stanford, California, Oregon and Washington.

Nobody wanted to say much about UCLA and Alcindor. Howie Dallmar of Stanford commented, "We have 12 games before Alcindor," which would indicate expectations of an unlucky 13th.

The Indians of Stanford will be shorter but quicker this season, Dallmar declared. He's moving Art Harris, last season's sophomore star, from guard to forward for the current campaign.

Rene Herrerias at California expects his 5-10 junior guard to provide floor leadership which has been lacking recently and 6-7 Bruce Steckel is back at the pivot. He was Cal's starting center last year until he ran into scholastic trouble.

Most of the clubs open the 1966-67 campaign on Thursday night. Cal's alumni test the varsity while Stanford is at USF, Sacramento State at St. Mary's, UOP at Hayward State, Pepperdine at Utah, and Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo at UCSB.

Friday night games include Arizona at San Jose State while the Saturday list has St. Mary's at California, Arizona State at Stanford, Arizona at USF, Hardin-Simmons at UOP, Santa Clara at New Mexico and UC Santa Barbara at Fresno State.

Another Setback For USC

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Southern California Trojans have that fortunate deep feeling this season.

After being rolled over, 51-0, Saturday by powerful Notre Dame, Southern Cal suffered another jolt yesterday—nine Trojans who transferred to USC from junior colleges won't play against Purdue in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2.

An NCAA rule prohibits bowl participation by students who don't have at least 48 junior college academic units or a B average in at least 24 units.

The Trojans started the football season with 28 transfers, and school officials were afraid perhaps half might be declared ineligible. Coach John McKay sounded optimistic, though.

"When you get into this," he said yesterday, "you'll find we're not hurting as badly as it might look."

Of the nine players lost, only three have been key performers — split end Ron Drake, safety Mike Battle and punter Dick Hough.

To replace Drake, the Pacific-8's second-ranking pass catcher, McKay will call on flanker Rod Sherman, fourth in league receiving, and halfback Jim Lawrence will take Sherman's flanker spot.

"It will be no problem for him," McKay said of Sherman's switch to split end. "That's probably where the pros will play him anyway."

Mike Hunter, last year's safetyman, will take Battle's place, and Lawrence will do the punting.

"He was our best punter anyway," said McKay of Lawrence, "but we couldn't use him early in the season because of a leg injury. Jim is a more experienced kicker than Hough."

With Lawrence going to flanker, Don McCall and Steve Grady, both strong runners, will take over the tailback chores.

The other six ruled ineligible are fullback Dan Scott, linebacker Steve Swanson, offensive tackle Dennis Born, safety Earl McCullouch and defensive tackle Mike Taylor, all second stringers, and center Bill Adams, a third-stringer.

Warriors Boast Top 1-2 Punch In League

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain and Guy Rodgers have moved out of San Francisco, but the Warriors still have the top one-two scoring punch in the National Basketball Assn. and it has them back atop the Western Division.

The sensational sophomore, Rick Barry, retained his runaway NBA scoring lead in this week's statistics, and now Nate Thurmond has jumped up to help.

Thurmond, who took over at center when Chamberlain was traded to Philadelphia a couple of years ago, vaulted from 13th to sixth in point-making with 429 points for a 19.5 point a game average. With Barry averaging 38.5 on 846 points, the pair provide the Warriors with 58 points a game on 1,275 total points.

Thurmond is also second in rebounding with 469 behind Chamberlin's 480 and third in average with 21.3, behind Chamberlain, 24.0, and Bill Russell of Boston, 21.8.

Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati was a distant second to Barry in scoring with 565 points for a 29.7 average. Chamberlain replaced Rodgers, now with Chicago, in third place with 497 points and a 24.9 average.

Rodgers dropped to fourth at 484 and 20.2.

Chamberlain pushed his field goal percentage to an all-time high of 65.8, far better than Darrall Imhoff of Los Angeles, 53.8. Jerry West of Los Angeles has hit 89.5 per cent of his free throws to Barry's 88.9, and Rodgers leads in assists with 288 to Robertson's 209.

LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE FIGHT

Ortiz Eyes Welter Crown After Flattening Elorde

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Another lightweight title fight and then champion Carlos Ortiz, knockout conqueror of Filipino Flash Elorde, may move up against welterweight king Curtis Cokes.

Ortiz and his manager Bill Daly, who had a second's license for the last night rout at Madison Square Garden, mentioned Sugar Ramos of Mexico City and Carlos Cruz, the contender from the Dominican Republic, as the possible lightweight opponents.

Ortiz flattened the game, wiry Elorde with a smashing left hook to the chin at 2:01 of the 14th round, ending a fight that was as one-sided as a duel between a machine-gunner and a guy with a water pistol.

Elorde, as flat as a day-old glass of ginger ale, never could get going against the smart, crisp-hitting Puerto Rican-born New Yorker.

Judge Joe Armstrong gave all 13 rounds to Ortiz, the 3-1 favorite. Judge Artie Aidala scored it 12-1 and referee Jimmy Develin had it 11-2. The Associated Press score card had it 12-1.

The 135-pound, 30-year-old Ortiz looked like a middleweight in against a bantamweight in the 31-year-old, 134½-pound world junior lightweight champion from Manila.

Ortiz, in his third title defense of the year, softened up his rival with stinging left jabs to the head and smashing lefts and rights to the body, and jarring rights to the head.

He buckled Elorde's knees several times and then brought him down finally with a barrage to the head and body followed by the jolting left hook. Elorde was on his back for 30 seconds and it was five minutes more before he could stand.

It was the first time in 96 fights of a 16-year pro career that Flash had been floored although he has been stopped three times on cuts. One of them was Ortiz' 14th round TKO win in Manila 2½ years ago.

"He hit me in the right place at the right time," said Elorde, who added that he would not make any decision about retiring until he returned to Manila in a few days. He is a wealthy businessman.

"I was surprised that he was able to last until the 14th," said Ortiz. "I thought I had him earlier but he is a game fighter and hung in there. I fought just as I had planned, hitting him with short lefts and rights."

Ortiz said he had little trouble making the 135-pound weight limit. "I may move up to the welterweight class next."

Daly said, "First it could be Ramos in New York, Los Angeles or possibly even in Mexico City.

"Then there's Carlos Cruz of the Dominican Republic, who's fighting Frankie Narvaez in Puerto Rico Dec. 5. We've been offered $60,000 to fight Cruz in the Dominican Republic."

Previously Daly had said Ortiz wouldn't fight again in Mexico City "unless they've increased the size of the army."

Mexico City was the site of the riotous fight on Oct. 22 when Ortiz stopped Ramos on cuts in the fifth round and then refused a commission order to resume the fight again with a sub referee for American Billy Conn.

An all-day rain cut the crowd to 9,120 and the gate to $47,957. With television receipts, Elorde earned about $20,000. Ortiz was guaranteed $55,000.

Ortiz' record is 49-5-1 including 20 knockouts. Elorde's record is 74-20-2.

COKES TRIUMPHS

Easy Decision For Welterweight King

DALLAS (AP) — Curtis Cokes, the thin brown panther of the ring, successfully defended his world welterweight crown against short-armed Jean Josselin last night, then looked toward a title bout with lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, who wants to move up.

Norm Levinson, promoter for the Dallas All-Sports Association, pointed to a $55,000 gate and 5,800 attendance for the Cokes-Josselin fight and said he wanted very much to stage a Cokes-Ortiz scrap in Dallas.

Doug Lord, manager of Cokes, expressed himself heartily in favor of the move. Cokes said he figured the fight would be in San Juan, Puerto Rico, but he didn't know the date.

Josselin never had a chance against the superior height and reach of Cokes, 29-year-old Dallas Negro with a goatee. Cokes piled up the points with a vicious jab, a wicked left hook and thunderous uppercuts.

Judge Nat Fleischer of New York had Cokes by seven points and Judge Morris Fair of Dallas had Cokes ahead by 10. Referee Dick Cole of Dallas gave it to Cokes by 13 points and The Associated Press saw it by 11 points for Cokes.

The little man from Besancon, France, had a bloody face from the ninth round on and owes Cokes a cleaning bill. Most of the blood seemed to be on Cokes' trunks.

But there was nothing resembling a knockdown and the only complaint of any kind came from George Kanter, American representative of the non-English speaking Frenchman.

Kanter claimed the referee broke the fighters too much, complaining:

"He wouldn't let us work inside. That was our fight. Josselin got discouraged."

But Cokes wondered if Josselin had a strong enough punch to do any good even at in-fighting.

Jim Lassle And Mrs. Epidendio Lead Bowlers

Jim Lassle of the 865 Scratch League had a hot 246 game to lead him to the men's high game and high series honors at Greenbrae Lanes last week.

Lassle's 649 topped three-game series honors while Bob Martin of the 525 Masters Trio took four-game series honors with a 782, paced by a 210 game.

Marilyn Epidendio of the Mixed Mates took both the series highs for the ladies, captured four-game high with a 782 and three-game high with a 580.

Women's high game was Lou Smith with a 248 for the Ladies 602 Scratch. Rich McPherson had the juniors high series and high game with a 246-214-608 in the Adult-Junior League.

Novato Quintet Loses To Hogan

Novato High School opened its 1966-67 basketball schedule on a sour note last Saturday, losing to Hogan High of Vallejo, 55-37. Rich McGee led Hogan with 30 points while football star Harold Fain led the losers with 12.

Hogan also won the Class B game, 46-23.

Big Striper Likes Short Ribs; Plenty Of Bass Being Caught

STEVENS

We've had many types of bass baits, blood worms, clams, sardines, anchovies, and bullheads to name a few that have caught fish. At this time of the year the innards of freshly killed ducks have been used successfully, as have grass shrimp. But to catch the larger fish there is a new bait being used —at least one fish weighing 29 pounds had an appetite for SHORT RIBS. No fooling. Frank Joseph of Joseph's Rodeo fishing pier and boatery vouches for the unusual bait. The "Ike" Woosters again brought in limits of stripers, and when cleaning the 29 pounder found a partially digested short rib bone as well as crabs and sardine leavings. So don't throw away or give to the dog the bones from a short-rib roast. Keep 'em for bass bait.

INCIDENTALLY, WHILE talking with Frank Joseph I learned that stripers striving the past few days has been very good with many fish over 20 pounds being taken. The cold, wet, and generally miserable weather on Sunday cut down the score, but the wiser anglers who heeded Franks' advice and stayed closer to shore on the Flats had just as good luck as those who suffered in the deeper water.

BOATS LEAVING Caruso's Harbor at Sausalito and fished live bait in the Red Rock-Paradise Cove and Racoon Strait did a good job. Tony Caruso gave honorable mention to the boat Corinne which fished live bait near the White Buoy - Pump House area on Saturday, returned to port with 21 bass to 18 pounds.

FROM LEE ANDERSON'S shop on San Pablo Avenue in Oakland, I learned that the Duke Two last Friday boated 11 bass to 22 pounds in the Pump House area off China Camp, using bullheads. On Saturday the Duke Two landed 6 stripers to 21 pounds near the Pump House. The Cherokee reported in with 7 limits and a 10-pound salmon.

TO PROVE that deep-sea rockfishing is worth while, the boat, Miss Dragnet brought home 16 limits of assorted rockfish and ling cod to 37 pounds.

The McAvoy area slowed down a bit over the weekend, but it is probably only temporary.

THE CASTRO VALLEY Rod and Gun Club is staging a bass derby over the weekend, but it is too early to get the official scores. I'll report later on the results.

Say, you nimrods, did you know there is a new magazine devoted solely to gun-toting sportsmen? There is. Called "Gun Week." Chock full of interesting news and shooting hints. If interested, drop me a line in a self-addressed envelope. The publishers of Gun Week sent me 10 subscription blanks. Want one?

A FAIRLY GOOD run of catfish is on at Clear Lake; Wrag Canyon Resort is quoted as reporting fair to good black bass action at present.

Bruins Face Jinx In A.P. Cage Ratings

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK (AP) — Will the UCLA Bruins overcome the jinx of being selected to win the national collegiate basketball championship in the preseason Associated Press poll?

Not a single pre-season choice has made good in the six years since the pre-season A.P. poll was started in 1961, including UCLA last season.

Ohio State was the pre-season pick in 1961, but Cincinnati won the championship. Ohio State was the choice again in 1962, but once more Cincinnati beat the Buckeyes in the final of the NCAA championship tourney.

In 1963 Cincinnati was chosen, but Chicago Loyola took the national title. Loyola was named in 1964, but UCLA won. Michigan was the choice in 1965, but again UCLA took the national crown. Last season the Bruins were favored to win their third straight NCAA championship, but Texas Western upset Kentucky in the NCAA final.

Now the Bruins are the choice to beat out Texas Western for the national crown in the 1967 season that opens Thursday.

ALCINDOR DEBUT

The long awaited varsity debut of Lew Alcindor, fabulous 7-foot-1 sophomore, swung the voting for UCLA in the A.P. panel of sports writers. Ever since the New York City high school star decided to enter the Los Angeles school, followers of the Bruins have predicted a new era of success for Coach Johnny Wooden's team. Alcindor and UCLA open the season Saturday night against Southern California.

An indication of UCLA's strength came Saturday night when the varsity swamped the UCLA frosh 127-56 behind Alcindor's 39 points. Last year Alcindor led the freshman to victory over the varsity with 31 points.

UCLA polled 12 first place votes to three for Texas Western and beat out the Miners from El Paso with an aggregate 163 points to 143 in the poll announced Sunday. Kentucky, the only other team to receive more than 100 points over-all on the basis of 10 for first, ninefor second, etc. finished third with one first place vote and a total of 120 points.

THE IRON MAN HAS CANCER

Another Cruel Battle For Ex-Champion Barney Ross

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — A prizefighter has to be a battler, but for Barney Ross fate cruelly never let him put down his dukes or fighting heart.

Ross, 57, was a ring terror as world lightweight and welterweight champion in the mid 1930s.

However, boxing retirement in 1938 marked only the beginning of a fantastically grim struggle in the life and times of a little iron man born in New York City as Barnet David Rosofsky.

"Don't worry, I'm still in there swinging and I'll lick this thing, too," rasped Ross, who has throat cancer.

"I've had 10 weeks of cobalt treatments and the doctors have arrested its spread."

Ross is a man who wouldn't tell you about a nightmare if his life was full of them. And it has been.

There was the hellish night, in 1942, when Marine Corporal Ross killed 22 Japanese soldiers while standing guard over three wounded buddies in a Guadalcanal foxhole.

In 1946, there were four torturous months in a government hospital when Ross conquered the narcotics habit which "slipped up" on him, the aftermath of malaria contracted in the South Pacific jungles.

And now it's still another lonely, desperate battle—with no referee, no gloves and no rules —for the lion-hearted little guy who heard the roar of thousands:

When he won the lightweight title from Tony Canzoneri in 1933 at Chicago and the same year outlasted Canzoneri in a fierce rematch before 35,000 in New York's Polo Grounds.

When he had an epic three fight series with Jimmy McLarnin, winning the welter crown from McLarnin in 1934, losing a rematch and then whipping McLarnin in their third bristling tangle.

And when Barney was battered into retirement in losing the welter title to hammering Henry Armstrong in May 31, 1938.

Barney's ring earnings are gone, but not his friends.

In New York, a testimonial to Ross will be held tomorrow night at a Sunnyside Garden fight show aimed at raising $10,000 for the stricken ex-champ.

On Dec. 12, Barney's Chicago friends will pay $50 each to attend a downtown theater at which film clips of Barney's old fights will be shown.

Constant companions of Ross are his attractive wife, Kathy, and Ira Colitz, a wealthy Chicagoan and boyhood chum of Barney's.

When a photographer and former middleweight champion Tony Zale, once stable-mate of Ross, showed up recently at Barney's apartment building for a possible picture, Kathy, with tear-dimmed eyes, greeted them in the lobby. "Barney" had a bad night and his face is puffed," Mrs. Ross said softly. "As much as he wants to see you boys, he'd better not this time.

Also in close touch with Ross is his former co-manager, Sam Pian, who with Art Winch, directed the ring fortunes of both Ross and Zale.

"Barney never talks about his ailment," said Pian. "I know he has great pains, but he never complains a bit. Barney is an outpatient at the Veterans Administration Research Hospital.

"He has his good days and his bad ones. He goes over the hospital once a week or so and is taking some kind of medicine. Barney takes walks quite often. I meet him many evenings around 9 o'clock and we walk a block or two together for exercise."

Barney Ross had 82 professional fights, lost only four and never was knocked out.

A man like Ross refuses to be knocked out.

Fights Last Night

NEW YORK—Carlos Ortiz, 135, New York, knocked out Flash Elorde, 134½, the Philippines, 14. Ortiz retains world lightweight title.

DALLAS—Curtis Cokes, 145¾, Dallas, outpointed Jean Josselin, 146¾, France, 15. Cokes retains world welterweight title.

ST. JOHN, N.B.—George Chuvalo, 214, Toronto, stopped Dave Russell, 187, Uniondale, N. B., 2.

OAKLAND, Calif.—Don Fullmer, 168, West Jordan, Utah, outpointed Carl (Bobo) Olson, 175, San Francisco, 10; Andy Heilman, 159, San Pedro, Calif., outpointed Jimmy Lester, 159½, San Francisco, 10.

49er Film Highlights At Festival Of Trees

While mom and the kids are buying Christmas trees, wreaths and other yuletide items at the Louise Boyd Natural Science Museum Guild's Marin Festival of Trees this weekend, dad will be able to sit back and watch films of San Fracisco 49er highlights.

Dave Scofield, "the Voice of Kezar," will narrate the films of 1966 National Football League games. The festival will be held at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael, Friday and Saturday.

Cost is $1 for adults. There will also be a drawing for two season tickets to the 49ers' home games of 1967 and a football autographed by 49er players.

Times will be from 6 to 11 p.m. Friday and 12:30 to 11 p.m. Saturday.

The proceeds for the festival will be used for the expanding educational program of the museum, for the purchase of equipment and visual aids needed to augment school science classes, and for building a planetarium dome for the new museum.

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 29, the 333rd day of 1966 with 32 to follow.

The moon is between the full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

American author Louisa May Alcott was born on this day in 1832.

On this day in history:

In 1890, the first Army-Navy football game was played, the Middies winning, 24-0.

In 1948, a performance was telecast directly from the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City for the first time.

In 1963, 118 persons were killed when a Canadian plane crashed near Montreal.

Also, in 1963, President Johnson appointed the Warren Commission to investigate the Kennedy assassination.

A thought for the day—American writer Henry David Thoreau said: "How many a man has dated a new era in his life from the reading of a book."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commeree, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Don't Always Take Mother's Advice On The Problem Hands

"My mother taught me to draw trumps first and then look around for the next thing to do," writes a fan.

"Why do you so often write about hands in which trumps should not be drawn?"

The answer follows the principle that it isn't news when a dog bites a man.

A DULL HAND

Imagine that South has A-Q-8 of hearts instead of A-9-8. He can draw trumps, discard a club on one of dummy's high diamonds and just give up one heart and two clubs.

South cannot lose his contract no matter what happens. A dull hand to read about.

In the actual hand South has no such cinch. If he draws trumps, he can discard one heart, but will lose the other heart and three clubs.

CORRECT PLAY

The correct play is to draw no trumps voluntarily.

South wins the first trick, cashes the ace of clubs and gives up a club. South takes the trump return and gives up another club.

TWO CHANCES

South will be safe if the missing clubs break 3-3, since his last club will be good. The other chance is that the opponent with club length will be out of trumps, and this happens to be the case.

South wins any return and can easily ruff his last club with dummy's king of trumps. This is the trick South loses if he draws trumps.

ACTUAL PLAY

In actual play you get many hands that present no problem. You draw trumps in such hands, but you wouldn't enjoy reading about them.

Follow Mother's advice when you can see at the beginning of a hand exactly how you are going to play each trick. Do your own thinking (and leave the trumps alone) when you can see a problem coming up.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♡ Q 10 3
◇ J 9 6 4
♣ K Q 7 6.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

This shows trump support and about 6 to 9 points in support of hearts (counting distribution as well as high cards). In this case you have 8 points in high cards and 1 point for the double-ton.

Bees Don't Seem To Mind Some Smog

RIVERSIDE (UPI) — Heavy smog may be damaging to the human system but it doesn't bother bees.

University of California entomologist E. L. Atkins says a recent experiment revealed bees are not affected by smoggy air and are more smog resistant than crop plants.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Supermarket Stocks Good; Well Protected

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have $1,000 to invest and have a leaning toward Acme Markets, as I worked for them years ago. This stock has dropped sharply in price and I would like to know what you advise." A.T.

A. You worked for an excellent company. Acme is a major food chain which has come down in price like most others in its group. These stocks have been hurt by intensive competition in the industry—followed by a general falling off in investment favor. Acme Markets should report good earnings recovery in the current year, probably to $4.65 a share. Dividends are well protected and now yield five per cent. Some expansion of sales is likely through the Alpha Beta division in Southern California.

If income is your principal objective, this stock should be satisfactory. If you are looking for appreciation, however, I would avoid Acme. Instead, I would buy a pharmaceutical like Merck or a consumer stock like General Foods.

Q. "I own a very large amount of Brunswick Corp. debenture 4½s of 1981, which have dropped 20 points since I bought them in February. Any information on debentures and Brunswick in particular will be appreciated." A.H.

A. Debentures represent simply the unsecured promise of a corporation to pay interest and principal when due. Their security depends entirely on the financial strength of the borrower and on the fact that default in payments is usually followed by bankruptcy proceedings.

The debentures you own are subordinated to Brunswick's senior debt. Because of the sharp decline in the company's earnings and in its interest coverage in recent years, your bonds are considered speculative and generally unsuitable for investors who cannot afford risk. Brunswick's management is excellent and it has made progress in reducing indebtedness. Earning power must be re-established, however, before your debeneures can be regarded as wholly secure. Although I don't anticipate default, I believe it would be prudent to reduce your commitment substantially.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Ford's Satellite System Advancing

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Back in August, the Ford Foundation came up with a stunning plan for a domestic communications satellite system which would provide television with a non-commercial second service.

The idea was that the three commercial networks would save a fortune in transmission charges under the revolutionary new system, and this money would be used by them to finance the interconnected non-profit entry.

SAVING MONEY

As expected, the networks loved the idea of saving money, but neatly sidestepped commitment to support a rival. There were other foes and counterplans, but significant debate was started. Soon the debates seemed more over means rather than ends. And so, how goes the battle? We asked Fred Friendly, television advisor to the Ford Foundation and former president of CBS News, for a progress report. Here it is:

"Our plan has won. If that sounds unrealistic or overly optimistic it is what I happen to believe. What's more, a good many people in and out of broadcasting believe it too.

"There will be more comments and replies to the FCC by interested parties. There will be congressional hearings. There will be a national debate. These will not determine whether our original submission was right or necessary. That's already established. What they will do is resolve the best way of technically and economically achieving what already has been won.

SINGLE SERVICE

"my optimism, the optimism of the public and the press, is not misplaced. There is going to be interconnection for non-commercial television. These interconnected stations are going to provide the American people with the choice of a genuine second service. The three major television networks amount to only a single service; their programming so similar that what they offer is a single service most of the time to the viewing public.

"The second service is going to appeal to excellence, not simply to popularity. And it is going to be funded, at least in part, by dividends from the savings of operating a domestic satellite system — whether stemming from a Ford Foundation plan or Comsat's or some better one to come along.

FOES CONCEDE

"Interconnection for non-commercial television stations, already assured, was unheard of six months ago. Yet, our worst foes at the bottom of their speeches —filled with reservations about a domestic satellite system —say, of course, there will be interconnection for non-commercial stations, and it will be free.

"Funds for programming the second service cannot all come from profits and savings resulting from satellite use. There will have to be other revenue sources, perhaps a levy on broadcasters' profits, perhaps an excise tax on television sets or some other form of raising the necessary monies. But whatever the means, a way will be found for the at least $100 million a year that must be made available so that programming excellence can serve our population.

"More qualitative, more expensive non-commercial broadcasts, seen simultaneously across the nation, can have an impact of a kind that current non-commercial television — with its antiquated method of filmed and taped broadcasts being bicycled from one station bloc to another for showing on various dates in numerous localities —never has had and never could have. Everything that I know about the reach and excitement that broadcasting can have resides in simultaneity.

PUBLIC HEARING

"If this country is to be reached intellectually and taken hold of emotionally, programming for it must be done so that all Americans can see it as one. This does not meant that there will not be differences toward the broadcasts by spectators; there always will be colossal disagreements over provocative documentaries and dramas, which is as it should be.

"A second service of the kind that is already in our grasp is the only place where television — without worrying over the limitations of time and advertising and shareholders and profits —is really going to be what so many people once prophesied it would be, what we all know it still can be.

"That is what I think has been accomplished since the Ford Foundation's Aug. 1 submission. There is no turning back for any of broadcasting to before Aug. 1. What is still in store for the Ford proposal is an elaboration of the technical and economic ways of making it fully into the reality that, but a matter of time, already exists."

Tattoos Removed By Laser Beams

LAS VEGAS (SS) — Unsightly tattoos can now be removed with the amplified light of the laser because of the color sensitivity of the device.

Warts and other pigmented skin growths have also been removed, Dr. Leon Goldman, director of the Laser Laboratory at Children's Hospital Research Foundation, Cincinnati, told the American Medical Assn's. annual clinical convention here.

More basic research is needed, but the laser is now ready for controlled investigative studies in humans, he said. He recently removed a human tumor with a laser, the first such use of the intense light beam.

Nanny For FDR's Family Is Dead

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Mrs. Irwin M. McDuffie, maid and nursemaid for many years to the Franklin Delano Roosevelt family, is dead at the age of 86.

Mrs. McDuffie, affectionately known to the Roosevelts as "Lizzie," died Sunday in an Atlanta nursing home.

Her husband was Roosevelt's valet for many years before the President's death in 1945.

Mrs. McDuffie and her husband retired to Atlanta after his health began to fail. He died in 1946. They had no children.

REFLECTING ON 50 YEARS—Tomorrow marks the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan DeMatei of 174 Humboldt Street. They celebrated with their family Sunday night. Yesterday, they looked over the cards and gifts of congratulations they have received.
(Independent-Journal photo)

Tomorrow To Mark Golden Anniversary

Even if it should rain, tomorrow will be a golden day for Mr. and Mrs. Nathan DeMatei of 174 Humboldt Street, San Rafael. It will mark the 50th anniversary of their marriage on Nov. 30, 1916, in St. Leander's Church, San Leandro.

The DeMateis formally celebrated their golden wedding Sunday night, at a dinner given in their honor at a San Francisco restaurant by their three children: Mrs. Fred Stasiowski of Fairfax, Mrs. Frank Montenegro of San Rafael, and Eugene DeMatei of San Francisco.

The two moved to Marin County 18 years ago after living 34 years in San Francisco. DeMatei was a salesman in San Francisco's produce market before he retired 18 years ago.

The DeMateis, who have six grandchildren, met in San Leandro, where Mrs. DeMatei lived after immigrating from Italy. He was born in San Francisco.

Pilot Killed When Starfighter Crashes

BONN (UPI) —A West German F-104G Starfighter crashed in the Eifel Mountains yesterday while making a landing approach to the Buechel Air Base, about 40 miles west of here, the defense ministry announced. The pilot died in a hospital from injuries suffered after ejecting from the aircraft.

It was the 65th Starfighter lost since the West German Air Force introduced the American-designed plane in 1961.

Observation Order Given By Judge

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday ordered Mark Love Norman, 47, to California Medical Facility in Vacaville for 90 days observation prior to pronouncing sentence for forgery.

Norman, of Pleasanton, had pleaded guilty to forging a $40 check with intent to defraud Seven Seas Tavern, Sausalito, on Oct. 5, 1964.

Novato Council To Decide On Dump Ordinance

Novato City Council will consider final passage of a nuisance ordinance when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

This ordinance was introduced two weeks ago. It would make it illegal to dump rubbish on public property.

A second nuisance ordinance, which was objected to by some people attending the meeting two weeks ago, would make it illegal to dump on private property. The council returned this for revision.

City Mgr. J. Julien Baget will report on the study by the council's Civic Center Committee, the county-city urban thoroughfare agreement and the proposed commuter parking on the Highway 37 interchange.

Governor Denies Use Of Prison

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Gov. William H. Avery said yesterday he has refused to permit filming of any portion of the movie "In Cold Blood" at the state prison at Lansing.

Richard Brooks of Columbia Pictures has announced plans to film the movie in Kansas. It will be based on Truman Capote's best-selling book on the slaying of four members of the Herbert Clutter family near Garden City.

Perry Edward Smith and Richard Eugene Hickock were executed for the slayings at the Lansing prison last year.

Avery said any filming to be done at the prison will be the responsibility of the governor-elect. Democrat Robert Docking will take office in January. Full-scale filming of the movie is to begin then.

Hub Firm Apparent Low Bidder On Beach Facility

Landscape contractors Watkin and Sibbald of San Anselmo appeared the low bidder yesterday on second phase development, including a seawall bench and restrooms, at Paradise Beach County Park near Tiburon.

The firm bid a total of $45,495.60, including $31,263.60 for basic landscaping and site development, $2,775 for the seawall bench and $11,457 for the restroom building.

However, Myers Construction Co. of San Rafael, bidding on the restrooms alone, offered to do that work for $9,856.

There were four other bidders on the whole job: John Stobbe of Corte Madera at $47,248.66; Cagwin and Dorward of San Rafael at $47,369.77; J. H. Fitzmaurice of Oakland at $52,518, and A. J. Shooter of Larkspur (not including restrooms), $41,118.75.

Landscape architect Asa Hanamoto had estimated the work at $45,176. The county public works department is expected to make recommendation on award of contract next Tuesday.

YULETIDE BRIGHTENER — Children and Santa Mouse will be virtually inseparable this Christmas as Penney's introduces a collection of children's sleepwear and fashionable playclothes with the Santa Mouse motif. They can be seen at Penney's in the Corte Madera Center and also in downtown San Rafael.

Santa Mouse Making His Bow This Year On Wearing Apparel For The Young Set

"'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house, not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse..."

No one is suggesting that the Christmas standard be rewritten, but, according to Penney's there was at least one mouse stirring and he made a big hit with Santa.

He's Penney's cute new Christmas character "Santa Mouse," who'll be present in the company's stores coast to coast and in Alaska and Hawaii this year.

Santa Mouse was named by St. Nick himself and got to go along in his high-flying sleigh—all because he remembered to leave Santa a gift of cheese at Christmas.

The tiny Christmas character will be featured at Penney's on wearing apparel for children, on a Columbia 45 recording and in a book. There will also be stuffed toy versions of the "mouse who remembered."

Santa Mouse will appear in his bright red fur-trimmed suit or his red and white striped nightshirt on infants' and little girls' and boys' pajamas, playwear, robes, and other apparel.

Bob Morrison, Columbia Record's popular vocalist ("Hey! Mr. Puppet Man" and "Wait"), has recorded the lilting "Santa Mouse" song.

The "Santa Mouse" book published by Grosset & Dunlap has been colorfully illustrated and features an appealing festive theme. Teamed with the record and clothing, it makes for lots of fun at holiday time.

Mighty Dam Being Built Around Peace

MANGLA, West Pakistan (UPI) —A mighty dam is being built here. Asia has never been anything like it.

And it proves that peace can be dramatic. The dam results from a peaceful agreement over an old sore point between India and Pakistan.

About 25,000 men and women from a dozen countries are building the dam. The spillway will handle 10 times the normal flow of Niagara Falls and will dissipate 40 million horsepower in energy, created by the massive onrush of water.

Water running under the dam through five 30-foot diameter tunnels, each 2,000 feet long, will produce a million kilowatts of electricity—more than doubling the present power production in the whole of Pakistan.

The purpose of the dam is to harness enough of the waters of the Jhelum river to irrigate West Pakistan's southern plains in the long summer dry spells. To do the job, 121 million cubic yards of rock, sand and dirt are being heaped in a three-section water barrier. The dam will be second in volume only to the Ft. Peck Dam in Montana. Its 120 square mile reservoir will hold 5.5 million acre feet of water.

The project involves the excavation of 700 million cubic yards of earth, the pouring of two million tons of concrete, the use of 250,000 tons of steel and one billion bricks and tiles.

One canal will outdistance Panama's; another will be twice as wide as Suez.

The huge $1.84 billion Indus-Basin project—of which the Mangla Dam is a $600 million first step—is the result of the peaceful settlement of a dispute.

It is the first part of the Indus project, proposed in 1949 by World Bank and U.S. officials who were mediating a water rights fight that brought India and Pakistan to the brink of war.

Five of the six rivers that sustain the ferility of the 22 million-acre Indus Basin flow out of India, whose government threatened to divert their waters from Pakistan after the two countries began their perennial quarreling as soon as they became independent in 1947.

This is one of the few disputes between them that appears headed for a permanent settlement.

Under the Indus Waters Treaty, three of the six rivers will remain for Pakistan's use and three will be diverted after Pakistan builds a system to replace their westward flow. The Indus project is to do just that.

Hotel capacity in Jordan has doubled in the past two years bringing the number of first class and luxury hotels in Jordan to seven.

Earth's Center Is Explored

WASHINGTON (ANS) — Scientists are looking through "telescopes" several miles beneath the earth hoping to find out what's going on millions of miles in space.

They are on the trail of neutrinos—elementary atomic particles without mass or charge which lie at the center of most energy produced in the universe.

Neutrinos pop out of nuclear reactions at the fiery core of the sun and certain stars. Because they whiz by without reacting with other atomic particles and dissipate into space, they have been called "the ashes of the universe."

By tracing the ashes' paths astrophysicists hope to prove their theories of how the sun's energy is formed and explain why certain stars suddenly turn bright and then collapse.

Neutrinos cannot be viewed through an astronomer's telescope and, thus far, no way has been devised to catch them speeding through space.

As an alternative, scientists have built massive concrete detectors — loosely termed telescopes—deep in the shafts of gold mines in India and South Africa. Another underground telescope is being built one mile down a Utah mine shaft.

The scientific sleuths have been forced to go underground to escape interference from cosmic radiation that bombards the earth. Their delicate instruments would be knocked out of whack unless shielded by thousands of feet of dirt and rock.

The atomic particles can be traced at these great depths because they "possess an incredible ability to penetrate matter," says an astrophysicist in a current report. The neutrinos are the products of collisions between high energy cosmic rays and matter in the earth's atmosphere.

To trap neutrinos flying off the sun and stars, an enormous detector is needed, says Dr. Frederick Reines of the University of California. One has been proposed that would take up a square mile in area. Immersed deep in the ocean, it would be powerful enough to weed out lower energy atmospheric neutrinos and trap cosmic particles.

Most bizarre perhaps is the suggestion of Soviet physicist G.T. Zatsepin to locate a detector on the moon, a moon telescope would not be hindered by atmospheric disturbances, he reasons.

The biggest telescope to date is two miles down the shaft of a gold mine near Johannesburg, South Africa.

Regarded as "a small pilot model," it takes up more than 1,500 square feet and consists of long rectangular boxes filled with organic liquids.

When atmospheric neutrinos travel through the earth—and the boxes—they produce microscopic ripples in the liquid. Photomultipliers amplify the stirrings and electronic counters trace each particle's path.

Bigger, more sensitive telescopes are being built and, in time, scientists hope to know much more about the billions of ashes speeding through the universe.

Dr. Reines believes neutrinos never disappear and "practically all high and low energy neutrinos . . . since the beginning of the universe . . . are still around us carrying the mark of their birth.

"Until we have detected this energy sink we will have no way of knowing just how much of the energy of the universe is in the form of neutrinos."

African Has Fortune In Priceless Money

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — There's a South African who's absolutely loaded with money. It's all paper money—from all parts of the world. It's worth a fortune, but the owner never spends a bean of it.

He is Jimmie Lawrence of Johannesburg. He has one of the world's finest collections of paper money, about 50,000 notes all told and worth about $245,000.

He exhibited some of them here.

His collection, from almost every country in the world, includes specimens that date back to the 14th Century.

In 1959 he helped to found an association of bank note collectors. In 1960 an International Bank Note Society was formed, which now has 8,000 collecting members in Britain, America, France and Germany, plus one South African — Lawrence, who is president.

He says that as a schoolboy he used to collect coins till, in 1938, a German sailor gave him some odd looking notes. From then on he was hooked.

His serious collecting began after World War II when a honeymoon tour of Europe and Britain led him to extend his banknote contacts.

The notes are astonishingly varied. Lawrence has them printed on paper, silk, cotton and even leather.

His largest one is 13½ inches by 9¼ inches. This is Chinese, printed on mulberry bark paper in 1368 and insured for $7,500. He says it is the oldest note in the world as well as the largest.

There are some no larger than small postage stamps. Another oddity is an Hungarian inflationary note of 1946 which bears the figure 100 followed by 18 zeros.

Every South African bank used to print its own notes. There are homemade South African war varieties. Beleagured towns printed their own in one case, on khaki shirting. This 10 shilling note in insured for $1,400.

It is handwritten on a square of fabric torn from a soldier's khaki shirt and was issued by a British army paymaster at Upington in the northern Cape Province in 1902.

Lawrence specially prizes one oddity from besieged Mafeking, a note signed by "Baden-Powell, Commanding Frontier Forces."

Then a shell hit the printing works and the form fell down. The second note has the "d" missing from "Commanding."

Lawrence says he would like his collection to be taken over by a South African bank or a museum so that it could be displayed permanently instead of lying in a vault most of the time.

Oceans cover seven-tenths of the earth's surface. Rivers carry more than 40 billion tons of materials in the seas every year. Winds deposit more millions of tons, and even space adds a minor contribution of meteorites. Thus the sea has become a dilute solution of almost everything.

PICKING UP CHRISTMAS CLUB CHECK—HAPPY OCCASION

Teller Linda Samuelson happily tenders the result of frugal and periodic savings to Cee Mickel for taking advantage of Crocker-Citizens Christmas Club. It's really a double treat, says Miss Mickel," because we have our Chrostmas costs in hand and have cash for those December taxes."

Impractical, But Very Exciting

Stanford (UPI) — It's the world's largest machine. It stretches more than two miles, consumes six times the power of an average city and costs $50 a minute to operate.

And it is never expected to repay a single cent of its $114 million construction cost or $30 million annual operational expense.

The Stanford Linear Accelerator Center (SLAC), is, in the words of its creator,"the world's largest impractical machine," yet it has excited the imagination and captured the interest of atomic scientists throughout the world.

The scientific community will be watching closely when the accelerator blazes into full operation about Thanksgiving and the first bits of information trickle from its complex electronic system.

The actual date for the first experiment is still fluctuating and keeps getting closer as the accelerator proves to be more trouble-free than even its staunchest supporters believed.

"Nobody ever thought it would operate so smoothly," said Dr. Matthew L. Sands, 46, deputy director of the center. Sands and his colleagues have watched fascinated as electrons sped down the "tube" at nearly the speed of light and produced an energy of 18.5 billion electron volts.

The energy thus created is impressive—but it is a means to an end and not the primary object. The high energy accelerator has, at the present time, a two-fold purpose.

It is, first of all, a "supermicroscope" that enables physicists to "see" inside the tiny world of the atom and examine its internal operation. With the accelerator as a tool, the scientist can examine particles a billion times smaller than the smallest thing he can see with a conventional optical microscope.

"We know how to make atomic bombs, hydrogen bombs, nuclear power plants and other atomic devices," Sands said, "but we don't actually know why—and to some extent how—it all happens. We're like housewives baking a cake; we pour in the ingredients and it turns out all right, but we don't know why.

The accelerator, secondly, is also capable of creating new particles which scientists are constantly discovering in the atom's own universe. The picture of atoms containing simple protons, neutrons and electrons is no longer accurate.

It was SLAC's director and orginal proponent of the huge accelerator, Dr. Wolfgang Panofsky, who first called the project "the world's most impractical machine." What he meant was that SLAC, financed by the federal government through the Atomic Energy Commission, never expects to produce a single finding that will have practical application.

The research at SLAC is completely unclassified and the results will be shared on an international level. Participation by foreign scientists is expected.

AN IMPRACTICAL MACHINE—The Stanford Linear Accelerator Center is, in the words of its creator, Dr. Wolfgang Panofsky, "the world's largest impracticable machine."

Teacher Uses Real Animals

By ROBERTA ULRICH

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — When that legendary lamb followed Mary to school one day the teacher promptly ordered it out.

Things are a bit different at Franklin School here, where first grade teacher Mrs. Alice Ransom brings the lamb herself—and a pig, a goat and assorted poultry.

One of the things first graders are supposed to learn about is farms and Mrs. Ransom learned in her first year of teaching that most city kids had no notion of what a real farm animal looks like. Most couldn't even picture, for example, how big a sheep is.

Mrs. Ransom, who grew up on a farm ("I even milked cows") thought this was a shame. And so the project started.

Each year when the study of farms begins Mrs. Ransom brings several animals for one day each. The kids, of course, love it.

But there is more to it than that. For many children it is the first contact with an animal other than a pet cat or dog which can be petted or ignored according to its owner's mood.

"They begin to understand that the farmer receives things from these animals and that he owes them something in return," Mrs. Ransom said. "It is the beginning of citizenship."

Whatever the deeper learning process, to the children the animals are sheer delight. There are, however, a few queasy moments when the children begin to realize that lamb chops come from real lambs like the one bleating outside the window.

So far as Mrs. Ransom knows, however, no child has refused to eat chops or chicken as a result of the classroom visitors.

Not only Mrs. Ransom's classes but all the others in the school—and half the toddlers in the Franklin District—get a chance to enjoy the animals. "The older children pretend this is all very funny," Mrs. Ransom said, "but when I'm gone they come around in droves to see the animals." Mothers from blocks around bring the pre-school children for a visit.

Animals being animals, problems do arise. Last year one of the pair of twin lambs escaped from the enclosure on the school lawn. Mrs. Ransom pursued the lamb—followed by 25 delighted first graders. The lamb was corralled a block away.

Then there was the case of the gregarious goat. The weather had turned bad and the goat was being kept inside Mrs. Ransom's room. This was fine as long as class was in session but during the lunch hour the lonesome goat escaped from its pen. It would stay put only as long as Mrs. Ransom remained in the room to keep it company.

"And there I was eating my lunch at my desk with that goat staring at me," Mrs. Ransom recalled.

But such problems have been rare in the six years of Mrs. Ransom's project. And even lunch with a goat has been worthwhile to bring to the children some feeling of closeness to the vast agricultural area which surrounds Spokane and provides a major share of its economy, she says.

Only TV Attraction: A Valuable Diamond

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP)— Three months as the only attraction on a closed circuit television broadcast has ended for a diamond valued at $100,000.

The 253.7 carat Oppenheimer diamond arrived at this home of the atomic bomb by registered mail in a small cardboard container. The gem, found in South Africa in 1964, normally is on display at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

The diamond, about the size of a golf ball, was loaned to Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory for a study to better understand how atoms vibrate within the most solid of objects. Atoms in all materials are in constant motion at varying speeds.

The diamond's presence at Los Alamos, where the first atomic bomb was built in World War II, was kept secret.

Security became a problem. Officials thought first of a 24-hour guard over the gem, but it was decided the $7,000 cost of the vigil was too costly.

Finally, the reactor room where the diamond was kept was locked and the gem placed under the eye of a closed-circuit television camera. The picture was monitored at a central security desk.

In addition, personal security checks were made four times during daylight and hourly at night until the diamond was shipped back to Washington.

"The stone is transparent and could be broken into several nice stones of jewel quality," said Dr. George Switzer, chairman of the Department of Mineral Sciences at the lab.

"And even though it is insured for $100,000, I don't quite know how you would go about replacing it. This is something we had been looking for for a number of years. You don't find them this large or this perfect very often."

Technically, the Los Alamos mineral sciences group is studying lattice vibrations in crystals.

John Warren, one of the research scientists, said there is a lack of knowledge of the forces operating within crystals. He said much work remains in this area since antiquated theories on lattice vibration, some of which were unchallenged since the early 1900s, have been opened up to new exploratory paths.

Tanzania Preparing To Boost Tourism

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanzania (AP)—Tanzania is preparing a master plan to boost its tourist intake from 24,000 to 30,000 a year.

Establishment of first-class hotels to supplement the existing magnificent natural parks and wildlife facilities is the first essential. The National Development Corp. and the National Tourist Board are planning to erect three new game lodges and three hotels at popular points.

The lodges will be at Seronera, in the famous Serengeti National Park — probably the finest natural game park in the world — at Ngorongoro, where game is observed in the magnificent crater, and at Mikumi, the park nearest to the capital, Dar-es-Salaam.

A beach hotel will be built in Dar-es-Salaam, and another will go up on the nearby spice island Zanzibar.

Final decision on the third hotel has not been made, but it likely also will be in Dar-es-Salaam.

Heading the organization behind the plan is Peter D'Arcy Champney, head of the tourist board, who says: "Tourist resorts in Europe and other parts of the world are at saturation point. People are looking for new places. We are doing all we can to ensure that they consider Tanzania as a place to visit.

"We could lift the total of tourists to 30,000 a year with very little effort. It is possible by 1968 to raise the figure to 80,000 a year with the right facilities."

Most of Tanzania's tourists come from the United States, Britain and West Germany.

Although the points of major interest in development plans are the already known game parks, other features of the country are not to be neglected.

Current emphasis on new roads linking the country with Zambia, will open up the southern highlands region of the country to tourists.

Along the coast there are many small islands, offering fine fishing and safe swimming —all in safety from sharks. Sinda Island, close to Dar-es-Salaam, is one such place. A hotel there—a real away-from-it-all haven—is thought likely to attract wealthy escapists.

The record of Mafia Island as a deep-sea fishing paradise is well known along the coast, and with better facilities it could be developed into a real money-maker.

Champney is trying to attract private investment as well as private tourists.

"As yet, few people have the courage to invest in this way," he says, "but there are big rewards waiting for those who do."

OLDEN DAYS TOYS—The grandchildren of German Emperor Maximilian I of Germany (1459-1519) were given these types of toys—fighting knights—probably at Christmas.

India Taking Giant Steps To Preserve Buddhist Past

NEW DELHI (AP) — India, the spiritual homeland of Buddhism, is taking steps to preserve its Buddhist heritage even though it now is a predominantly Hindu land.

An archaelogical museum has been opened in Nagarjunakonda in the southern state of Andhra Pradesh to save and display Buddhist art and edifices dating from ancient times.

Nagarjunakonda first became archaeologically important in 1927-31 when extensive excavations uncovered Buddhist sites and many stupas (stone pillars), shrines, monasteries and sculptures.

Work was continued in 1938 and 1940 but not until 1953 was it speeded up.

In that year, it became apparent that a dam being built across the Krishna River would cover the Nagarjunakonda Valley and its priceless relics with deep water.

The Indian government in a recent announcement said that in 1954-60, archaeologists worked fast, uncovering much more than what had been known about Buddhist edifices and also the prehistoric archaeology of the valley.

The relics that could be saved will be placed in the museum. Others will be patched together from bits and pieces that have been found. Many, however, will be reconstruted out of original material on one hill site.

One original, titled "Stupa worship," is a detailed relief depicting Buddhists in ancient times worshipping a stupa, or stone pillar which represents a god or goddess.

Another outstanding work shows the Lord Buddha, astride a horse and surrounded by worshipful retainers, riding off to renounce the world and all worldly things.

His followers subsequently spread his teachings throughout Asia and Buddhism became one of the world's great religions.

Ironically, Buddhism all but died out in India. Of the nation's 495 million people, about 445 million are H indus. Nearly 50 million are Moslems. Chistianity, Buddhism and other religions also are present.

Farm assets total $230 billion, equal to two-thirds of the value of current assets of all corporations in the country.

Metal Toy Knights Date Back To 1510

HAMBURG, Germany (GF) The grandchildren of German Emperor Maximilian I (1459-1519) played with metal toy knights which were made back in 1510.

The knights are depicted in the latest edition of Karl Groeber's "Kinderspielzeug aus alter Zeit" ("Toys in the Old Days"), a standard work on the subject since 1929. The new edition was revised by Juliane Metzger and it now includes the results of more recent research. Another new volume called "Deutsches Spielzeug" ("The German Toy") has also appeared.

In addition to supplementing Groeber's standard work about older toys, it fills in the picture of more recent German toys. The book, co-authored by Karl Fritzsche and Manfred Bachmann, is being printed in both parts of divided Germany.

The success of the joint venture has thus given it a special significance, denoting an area which may provide a possibility for future cooperation.

Today, antique German toys are among the most avidly sought after by museums and collectors and often draw enormous sums when sold.
